WORLD BANK REPORT WARNS OF UNSURVIVABLE HEAT WAVE

India could soon experience heat waves that break human survivability limit, the World Bank said in its latest report

EXTREME CLIMATE EVENTS RISING IN INDIA

The World Bank report titled 'Climate Investment Opportunities in India's Cooling Sector' said severe heat waves, responsible for thousands of deaths across India over the past few decades, are increasing with alarming frequency. It said the country could become one of the first places in the world to experience such extreme climate events that can be fatal

380 MN DEPEND ON HEAT-EXPOSED LABOUR

"Up to 75 per cent of India's workforce, or 380 million people, depend on heat-exposed labour, at times working in potentially life-threatening temperatures," the report said. India has the largest heat exposure impacts on heavy labour among South Asian countries, losing 101 billion hours a year, the report added

Wins 134 wards, BJP manages 104; Congress reduced to single digit

MUNICIPAL CORPORATION OF DELHI IN AAP POCKET

UJWAL JALALI @New Delhi

FINALLY, what AAP thought happened, not in the exact measure, but in its historical proportion. The Arvind Kejriwal-led party ended the BJP's 15-year rule over the MCD, bagging 134 of the 250 seats, forcing the BJP to settle at 104 and Congress at a distant 9 seats.

For AAP, it is a wish fulfilled: it now rules Delhi and the civic body whose unification from three separate bodies a few months back was thought to be a pro-BJP move.

On Wednesday, the BJP could draw solace from a fragile fact: it has fared better than what was projected by exit polls.

The results humiliated the Congress as it won only nine seats and, worse, 188 of its 247 candidates lost their deposits.

An element of history joined AAP's win. It is for the first time that the AAP has managed to wrest power from the BJP in any of the battles of the ballot since the party's birth a decade ago. AAP has won two other elections — the Delhi Assembly (2015 & 2019) and Punjab (2022). In all these polls, AAP swept the Congress off, while it faced defeat in BJP-ruled states like Uttarakhand, Goa and Uttar Pradesh.

In Delhi, AAP singularly targeted the city's ever-rising three landfill sites, promising to remove the muck and squalor from Delhi's midst. The BJP got back at AAP by selectively leaking video clips on the so-called corruption cases, including the Delhi excise scam.

In the previous elections, the BJP had trounced both the AAP and the Congress by winning 181 of 272 wards of the three municipal corporations.

Kejriwal termed the "decisive victory" to be an affirmation for his party's honest politics.

Delhi BJP chief Adesh Gupta said the people have given them almost 40% vote share along with 104 wards and responsibility as a strong opposition. P2

Govt buses halted between K'taka, Maha

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Belagavi

WHILE the situation is gradually limping back to normalcy after violent incidents were reported from the Karnataka-Maharashtra border, the transport corporations of both the states on Wednesday halted the movements of their respective vehicles to each other's states. This has been done as a precautionary measure in the wake of attacks on buses on both sides of the border on Tuesday.

However, the movement of private vehicles remained unaffected across the border, although they were stopped by the police as part of intensified checks, post the protests and violence on both sides of the border.

Activists from pro-Maharashtra groups blackened signboards of Karnataka government buses and wrote pro-Marathi slogans on Karnataka buses in Solapur, Sindhudurg, Nashik, Aurangabad, Kolhapur, Chandgad, Baramati and Pune in Maharashtra over the past one week. Activists of pro-Kannada organisations, too, targeted vehicles coming into Karnataka from Maharashtra.

After the situation worsened on Tuesday, both the state governments on Wednesday morning initiated stringent measures to bring the situation under control. Fearing more such attacks, movement of all government buses from both the states has been stopped beyond the border.

According to sources, at least 200 buses from Karnataka to Maharashtra were halted at the border near Nipani and Kagwad towns on Wednesday. P4

FADNAVIS COMPLAINS TO AMIT SHAH

Mumbai: Maharashtra Deputy Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis called up Home Minister Amit Shah over phone on Wednesday and requested him to restrain Karnataka Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai from making "provocative statements that disturb the atmosphere" between the two states. "The attacks on Maharashtra's vehicles will not be tolerated. I have already spoken to the Karnataka CM and he has assured me that nothing untoward will happen to people from Maharashtra. Still, I request you to send a clear message to the Karnataka CM to exercise restrain," Fadnavis told Shah.

M'LURU BLAST ACCUSED SAYS HE HAS A HANDLER

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

THE main accused in the pressure cooker blast case in Mangaluru, Mohd Shariq (24), has reportedly admitted that he has a handler. Informed sources, on condition of anonymity, said that Shariq has revealed some names and aliases of his handler, which may be misleading.

He has also allegedly said that there are many other youth like him, who are highly radicalised and would go to any extent to establish the rule of Shariah in India, added the sources.

Earlier, the police had revealed the names of terror suspects Arafath Ali, Mussabir Hussain and Abdul Matheen Taha, also from Shivamogga as his handlers but agencies suspect that there's someone else, who is known to Ali who has been handling Shariq and keeping a track on him. "This man has been in constant touch with Shariq. He has been communicating with him on VPN-enabled apps along with some others for secret conversations, has financed him for terror activities through cryptocurrency and has assigned him with smaller tasks to prove his mettle and commitment for larger assignments for jihad," said sources.

Sources added that Shariq has reportedly confessed that he had planned to place the IED, which went off prematurely inside the autorickshaw at the famous Kadri Manjunath temple in Mangaluru. P4

Treatment hit: Faced with shortage of beds, Nimhans turns away patients

NAMRATA SINDWANI @Bengaluru

THE National Institute of Mental Health and Neurosciences (Nimhans) has been denying treatment to patients over the last few weeks citing unavailability of beds and asking attendants to shift patients to other hospitals.

On December 6 night, a 15-year-old boy was referred by Mandya District Hospital doctors to Nimhans for emergency treatment of mental stroke. But the Nimhans faculty denied him treatment citing unavailability of ventilator beds.

The family had initially paid an admission fee of Rs 30,000, apart from the ambulance charges from Mandya to Bengaluru. The boy's father, Satish, a farmer, said: "I cannot afford expensive treatment at private hospitals. But now I have spent Rs 1.5 lakh in two days and am trying to shift my son to another hospital where I can afford treatment." P5

HEAVY EIGHTS

The prospect of an Argentina-Brazil semifinal looms large as the quarterfinal line-ups have been identified. A look at all eight teams...

CROATIA 2018 finalists have been run-ragged a few times but are still fighting with an ageing but still world class team. You fear for them

V/S Friday 8.30 PM

BRAZIL Struggled for goals early on but turned on the style against South Korea. They are two matches away from reaching an 8th final & first since 2002

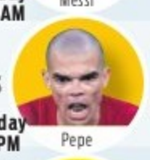
NETHERLANDS Three-time finalists still searching for their first title. Have relied a lot on Cody Gakpo's goals. Play a counter-attacking brand of football

V/S Saturday 12.30AM

ARGENTINA Stumbled early on but have grown into the tournament. Almost let that Round of 16 match against Australia slip. Lionel Messi has been the difference maker

MOROCCO They have based their performances around great defensive work and relied on a fast break. Can they keep doing it?

V/S Saturday 8.30PM



PORTUGAL Dropping Ronaldo gave their forward line a new lease of life. Will they stick to their new belief? Have the potential to go all the way

ENGLAND Another side that turned on the style in R-16. Have a well-rounded attacking unit where multiple players can chip in with goals

V/S Sunday 12.30AM

FRANCE Looked a little shaky at the back but when you have Kylian Mbappe, why worry? The midfield is a bit lightweight and can be worrisome

Centre wants Gaganyaan launch before '24 LS polls

KARTHIK K K @Mysuru

INDIA'S much-awaited maiden manned space mission, Gaganyaan-1, is likely to be scheduled in 2024, just ahead of the Lok Sabha elections on "instructions from the government".

Originally, the Gaganyaan-1 launch was scheduled for December 2020, but the raging Covid-19 pandemic threw the schedules out of gear, and the Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) tentatively pushed it further to December 2021.

Although ISRO had slated the manned space mission in December 2024, the pandemic had played truant with the test schedules. Now, with all aspects of the Gaganyaan-1 programme firing on all cylinders, the two major tests — Test Vehicle Demonstrations (TV-D1 and TV-D2) — are expected to be carried out in February 2023 and December 2023, respectively. While TV-D1 will be a high altitude abort test (which will test the crew escape system in case of anything going wrong), the TV-D2 will be an unmanned mission to test whether all parameters of the flight without a crew would work fine during the final mission. Only after that, will the main manned space mission take place.

The date of the final mission has not been finalised.

Cost of living to go up as RBI raises rate

MONIKA YADAV @New Delhi

YOUR cost of living has just gone up. And, it will continue to stay that way for quite some time, going by the Reserve Bank of India's monetary policy statement released on Wednesday. According to RBI, the common man will continue to bear the brunt of price rise and high interest rates as the central bank's fight against inflation is not over yet.

Seeking to cool inflation, RBI governor Shaktikanta Das on Wednesday announced a 35 basis points increase in the benchmark interest rate. This, however, which will trigger another round of hike in' lending rates. Banks are expected to raise interest rates of home loans and other loans linked to the repo rate (at which RBI lends to banks). Home loan rates are already at 9% or more. The burden on existing home loan borrowers could go up by ₹950-1,200 per EMI for an outstanding loan of ₹50 lakh with a tenure of 10-25 years. Loans are only going to be costlier in the coming months as RBI has given clear indications that the rate hikes are far from over.

Experts see another 25 bps rate hike. Realtors say another rate hike could derail the recovery in the property market by making the affordable housing segment unaffordable. On the bright side, there's hope for savers as banks are likely to raise deposit rates. Inflation will, however, continue to pinch the common man as RBI has retained its inflation target for FY23 at 6.7% — with Q3 inflation at 6.6% and Q4 inflation at 5.9% — which is still higher than its upper tolerance level of 6%.

High inflation and interest rates are weighing down the economy with RBI revising the growth rate for FY23 to 6.8% from its earlier projection of 7%. With global slowdown looming large amid high inflation and high interest rate, the common man faces uncertainty in the immediate future.

WHAT THE REPO RATE HIKE MEANS

- If you have taken a loan, or are planning to take one, you may have to shell out more as banks are likely to raise interest rates
- Parallelly, interest rates on deposits in banks are also expected to rise
- Experts feel the real estate sector will be the most hit as higher home loan rates will put off potential buyers

In maiden speech, Dhankar raps apex court

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

IN his first speech as chairman of the Rajya Sabha, Vice President Jagdeep Dhankar on Wednesday took on the Supreme Court, describing its 2015 verdict that struck down the National Judicial Appointment Commission (NJAC) bill as a glaring instance of severe compromise of parliamentary sovereignty and disregard of people's mandate.

Dhankar said there is no parallel in democratic history where a legitimate Constitutional prescription was judicially undone. He underscored Parliament's position as the exclusive and the ultimate determinative of the architecture of the Constitution.

"Hon'ble members, there is no parallel to such a development in democratic history where a duly legitimised Constitutional prescription has been judicially undone. It's a glaring instance of severe compromise of Parliamentary sovereignty," the V-P said.

He pointed out that the NJAC bill had received unprecedented bipartisan support but was quashed on the ground that it was not in sync with the basic structure of the Constitution.

Calling Parliament the custodian of the "ordainment of the people", Dhankar also said it was duty bound to address the issue and expressed confidence that it would do so.

Mango lovers, rejoice! It may be a bumper crop this season

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

HERE'S some good news for mango lovers. Year 2023 is expected to be a bumper season for mango harvest. Reason: There was reduced rain in November in the state's regions where mangoes are grown. The less rainfall helps in flowering of the fruit. Last year, rain in December had damaged the flowers.

Karnataka is one of the top mango growing states in the country, with at least 1.7 lakh hectares in 16 districts used for cultivating the fruit. It is widely grown in Kolar, Chikkaballapur, Dharwad, Belagavi, Haveri, Bengaluru Rural and Ramanagara districts.

S V Hittalmani, Additional Director of Horticulture, said flowering started in Ramanagara and Bengaluru Rural region in November. It will begin in Haveri and Dharwad regions by December-end, and by January and February, Kolar and Chikkaballapur pockets will begin to flower.

"Fortunately, there has been no rain since November, unlike last year. Farmers face blossom blight disease due to moisture, which turns the flowers black. So, we have recommended some measures which include spraying of pesticides," he said.

Want to see dolphins leaping playfully? Visit Devbagh

A humpback dolphin breaches near Devbagh in Karwar | EXPRESS

SUBHASH CHANDRA N S @ Karwar

NEXT time when you are in Devbagh near Karwar, hold your breath! Just fix your gaze on the Kali river and you will see dolphins playfully leaping. The Karnataka Forest Department has come out with a unique plan to enable tourists to catch a glimpse of dolphins, free of cost. The department, through its Marine and Coastal Ecosystem Cell, has decided to allow people to have a clear view of marine life from a particular point in Devbagh - a first of its kind experiment in the country.

Dolphins are indicators of a healthy ecosystem. They thrive in clean waters. The proposal is a new one, but has been inspired from an old habit of the people of Karwar who jostle to watch dolphins in the Kali river estuary. P5

Delhi municipal poll victory boosts city AAP unit

AAP members celebrate the party's victory in the Municipal Corporation of Delhi elections, at the party office in Bengaluru on Wednesday | SHASHIDHAR BYRAPPA

Party is ready for BBMP elections, BJP scared of drubbing, says party VP Bhaskar Rao

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

THE victory of Aam Aadmi Party's (AAP) in the Municipal Corporation of Delhi (MCD) elections by edging past ruling BJP has boosted the confidence of AAP Bengaluru unit workers.

As AAP won 134 out of the 250 wards and there was an indication that it would rule the municipality, party workers from across the city gathered at the party's head office at Kumarakrupa near Seshadripuram and raised slogans and later took out a victory procession.

Former Bengaluru city police commissioner and AAP state vice-president Bhaskar Rao told The New Indian Express that AAP is ready to face the BBMP elections, but it is the ruling party that is scared to announce the polls, fearing it would face a drubbing at the hands of AAP, which is an emerging force.

"In fact, all the 27 MLAs from Bengaluru from both ruling BJP and Congress are happy that the voter data tampering scam has broken out as it would delay the election. The MLAs have been hijacking and pocketing the funds. The election commission or court should not give them a long rope, and direct the government to hold the elections at the earliest. Citizens are being deprived of better civic amenities like roads, sanitation and drains to tackle floods," he said.

Hitting out at Rao, BJP Bengaluru South district president NR Ramesh said the voter data tampering is in no way linked to BJP as fake voters were included much earlier in 2020. He claimed that around 1.5 lakh voters were added to the list at various Assembly segments in Bengaluru by including names of people from neighbouring states. After his complaint, many officials were suspended. He said it is not true that the BJP government is delaying the elections. "BJP is ready to face the BBMP polls. We have also appointed a page committee in advance and have been working to build the party from the grassroots level and we will win whenever the polls are held," said Ramesh.

Special officer holds all-party meeting, invites objections to revised voter list

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AFTER the Chilume issue and directions from the Chief Electoral Office to thoroughly check the voters' list in Mahadevapura, Chickpet and Shivajinagar assembly segments, special officer for Mahadevapura assembly seat, Ajay Nagabhushan held an all-party meeting and invited objections and claims with regard to the revised voters' list.

At the meeting, principal opposition Congress leader Nallurhalli Nagesh approached the officer at booth nos. 283, 284, 285 and 286 and stated that about 30 names which were deleted from each booth are very much alive. He blamed BJP leaders and the organisation hired by BBMP for voter awareness work for alleged tampering and deletion.

"If one booth has so many names deleted, imagine how many names would have gone missing from all the booths here. This malady would have taken place earlier too," aid Nagesh.

He stated that names of people from the minority community, OBCs mainly supporters of Congress and non-BJP parties have been deleted, and suspended Revenue Officer Chandrashekar is not alone in the voter tampering scam from Mahadevapura, there could be many senior officials and leaders from BJP.

Political party leaders from Congress, JDS and others in unison stated that Mahadevapura seat, that has 479 polling booths, names have been deleted in almost all the booths and the officials have assured to recheck for list in all the booths and will give a report in eight days.

HC order on officer's bail plea today

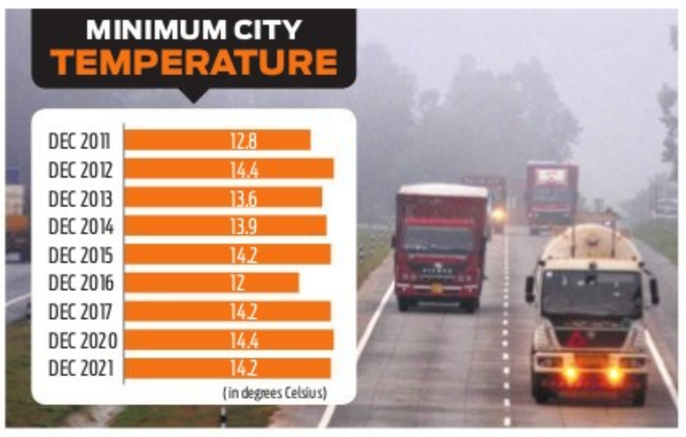
MOHAMMED YACOOB
@Bengaluru

SUSPENDED Bengaluru Urban Deputy Commissioner K Srinivas, who had approached the High Court for anticipatory bail in the voter data tampering and deletion case, appears apprehensive about his arrest. His fate will be decided on Thursday, when the court gives its order. BBMP officials and tainted NGO Chilume are allegedly involved in the voter data scam. An officer from Halasuru Gate police station stated that immediately after police issued summons to Srinivas last week, he arranged for a lawyer, anticipating arrest. "The order will be issued by court by the end of the day. It can go either way, and to be on the safe side, the suspended officer has applied for bail," he said.

Srinivas appeared before the police officers once, and was asked to come again on Wednesday, but has sought two days' time.

Meanwhile, suspended BBMP Commissioner (Admin) S Rangappa on Wednesday appeared before investigation officers at Halasuru Gate police station and gave his written reply, along with supporting documents claiming his innocence.

"We are yet to go through what he has given. We will check the details, and in case we are not satisfied, we will issue another notice," an officer said. Both Rangappa and Srinivas were appointed additional electoral registration officers, and after the scam was reported, the Election Commission placed them under suspension ten days ago.



No chill, tuck away sweaters this December

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE first week of December is over and most parts of Karnataka, including Bengaluru, are yet to experience the winter chill. On an average, the minimum temperature in most districts of the state has not dipped below 10 degrees Celsius. Similarly, in Bengaluru, the minimum temperature on an average is hovering around 16 degrees Celsius.

Officials from the India Meteorological Department (IMD), Bengaluru, confirmed that there is a delay in the onset of winter chill because of formation of systems and cloud cover. The officials said that rain in December is also not unusual, but there is certainly a delay in the arrival of dry and winter chill spell.

The officials also forecast the formation of systems over Tamil Nadu coast, which could further have an impact on the winter temperature of Bengaluru and most parts of south interior Karnataka.

"Due to the presence of cloud cover, the radiative cooling is not happening. Hence, there is no dip in temperature. The cloud cover is sending back the heat energy. Also, the easterly and north-easterly winds are prevailing, instead of the northerly winds, which help in a dry and cool temperature," a senior official from IMD, Bengaluru, said.

The IMD officials recalled that a similar situation prevailed in 2016 when cyclone Vardah entered Tamil Nadu. They also said that the formation of systems is not ruled out till December 31, which will have an impact on the temperatures in most parts of Karnataka, including Bengaluru.

BEST PRACTICES

State's higher edu systems to be revamped

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Higher Education Department is planning on revamping several of its systems to ensure transparency in its functioning.

Higher Education Principal Secretary Rashmi Mahesh told reporters on Wednesday that the revamp will include a four-tiered grievance redressal system that allows for tracking as well as an 'adalat' for pension-related cases of retiring staff and faculty.

"The aim is to get rid of duplicity in the state's higher education system. There should be one point of entry for stakeholders to enter information, so that this is available to the department, officials, university and college. Digital learning and unified data are the two best practices being advocated across the world. So these must be practices in all higher education institutions," said Higher Education Minister C N Ashwath Narayan.

Meanwhile, Department of Collegiate and Technical Education (DCTE) Commissioner Pradeep P said a decision was taken to allow students to communicate in both English and Kannada at colleges. "We have also made the decision to allow students to write their examinations in English or Kannada," he said.

Illegal deletion, addition of names on poll roll, Cong files complaint

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru:

THE Congress on Wednesday raised a formal complaint with election authorities, alleging serious irregularities in electoral rolls in Rajarajeshwari Nagar. Lodging the complaint with Election Commissioner Manoj Kumar Meena, Bengaluru Rural MP DK Suresh alleged, "About 1.30 lakh fake voter names have been included unofficially, as compared to the voter roll last time. The names of around 75,000 voters have been illegally deleted from the list. Penal action needs to be taken."

The Congress MP lodged the complaint with Congress MLA candidate in the last bypoll, Kusuma H Hanumantharayappa, and other local leaders, and was accompanied by block level leaders Rampura Nagesh amd Gopala Krishna.

Thousands of fake names have been added, with their address at vacant plots, Suresh alleged. "Names of Congress supporters, including minorities and Vokkaligas, have been mischievously dropped from the list in this assembly constituency," he said.

"BJP leaders, ministers and MLAs in Bengaluru, through the organisation 'Chilume', committed huge irregularities in the name of updating electoral rolls. Around 90,000 voters were added to Rajarajeshwari Nagar constituency from 2018 to January 2022, and around 40,000 voters were added from January 2022 to November 9, 2022, while 1.30 lakh voters were added after the last assembly elections," Suresh alleged.

The Election Commission announced that around 40,000 voters were deleted from the electoral rolls between May 2018 and January 2022, and names of 26,000 voters were omitted from January 22 to November 9. A total of 75,000 voters were removed.

A voter who wants to add or remove her name in the electoral roll, has to apply on Form 6 and 7. On the directions of MLAs and the minister, the voters' list was revised without these forms. Bogus voters have been invited from other states too, Suresh said.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

08TH December: Two notable signs at the moment are Sagittarius and Scorpio, a combination which is highly theatrical. People born while these two signs are significant often lead dramatic lives, so this is a marvellous moment for all of us to start playing up! If ever you wanted to strut under the spotlight, then perhaps your time has come!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Nobody can force you to accept situations which you feel would be a threat to your security or which go against your interests. However, you must have a proper regard for other people's real beliefs and feelings. Stop, pause for thought and try to sympathise with their hopes and wishes.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
There are a number of planetary patterns which will be important if you are to keep your spirits aloft, so there seems to be little point in making life more difficult than need be. Give yourself an easy ride and you'll learn valuable lessons about how to manage your personal affairs in the future.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
The fact is that partners or associates may be unwilling to part with certain information or let you in on a secret. There is no need to feel threatened, though, as all will become clear before long. I know you're impatient, but events are moving faster than they sometimes seem.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Recent unexpected developments at work have done little to damage your confidence. In fact you will soon be riding on the crest of a wave, buoyed up by respect and praise from your peers. Everything depends on your sense of timing over the next week.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Take what is on offer and be grateful that the bad feeling of recent days finally seems to be coming to an end. You have every right to expect an explanation of recent behaviour, even though none may be forthcoming. What I mean is that a partner should apologise, but whether they do is an entirely different matter!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
The moment has come to take expert advice on a bureaucratic, legal or business matter. What you want to do now is consolidate all that you have worked so hard to achieve. You've got a difficult task - to set yourself free from one commitment, while hanging on to another.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
There have been times when you would have been quite justified in making a song and dance but, right now, you may do better to turn the other cheek. After all, you are not entirely blameless; the present is the sum total of all your past actions.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You seem to have been caught in the cross fire recently and may have begun to doubt the sense of a number of current endeavours. However, some of the criticism you have been subjected to has been misplaced and unfair - but that doesn't make it any the less hurtful.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Imminent planetary movements raise the need to settle matrimonial or partnership affairs sooner rather than later. What took place earlier may have hurt your pride, but should not prevent you from offering an olive branch, now. You'll get all the credit for restoring goodwill.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
You have perfectly valid reasons to take a step back and concentrate on conserving your energies. There will be time enough over the coming months for pushing yourself to the limit and achieving your many ambitions. Just for now, take a look at your spiritual values.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Ensure that a partner or relation can't take the wind out of your sails today. You can be certain that you have honoured all your commitments and fulfilled your obligations. However, a pressing financial problem may still require urgent attention- there's a problem to patch up.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Take no notice of what appears to be going on behind the scenes, for those who are apparently threatening your position will receive their just desserts in good time. There is little that can go wrong with your plans just as long as you take every step in the proper order.

A 10-year-old boy, who had sustained burn injuries after coming in contact with a live wire while catching pigeons in Nandini Layout last week, succumbed to injuries at a hospital, on Wednesday. Police said Chandru, the vitim, and his friend Supreeth (12) were injured when they were trying to catch pigeons in Vijayananda Nagar in Nandini Layout on Thursday, after an iron rod they were holding came in contact with a live wire

13-yr-old addicted to phone ends life after told to finish homework

Was glued to mobile phone ever since introduction of online classes, parents tell cops

PRAVEEN KUMAR @Bengaluru

A 13-year-old, Class 7 boy addicted to mobile phone died by suicide after his parents asked him to complete his homework and concentrate on his studies. The parents neither beat nor abused him. They asked him to handover the mobile phone and finish the homework as it was getting late. The boy hanged himself from the ceiling of the storeroom using a cloth around 8.30 pm on Tuesday at Attibele on Bengaluru-Hosur main road.

The victim, Yashas Gowda, was studying in a private school at Swami Vivekananda Nagar in Hoskote. His father Ravinda Gowda is a farmer. The victim has a sister.

"The father in his statement said his son was addicted to mobile phones ever since introduction of online classes. It was difficult to take the phone from him. After returning home from school, he would be on the phone. The parents were upset as he was not doing his homework or studying properly. If not the phone, the boy would sit in front of TV," said an officer, who is part of the investigation.

When the boy did not come out even after an hour, his mother went inside to check and found her son hanging. The parents screamed for help and neighbours called an ambulance. Yashas was taken to a nearby hospital where he was declared brought dead. The police were informed about the incident around 10 pm.

The postmortem was conducted at a government hospital in Hoskote on the outskirts of the city in Bengaluru Rural police limits.

The jurisdictional Sulibele police have registered a case of unnatural death.

Sudhakar calls for serious fight to tackle malnutrition

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

STRESSING on the importance of early screening of children for malnutrition and anaemia to ensure timely corrective measures, Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar instructed officials to conduct health check-ups for children in collaboration with government health centres in places like schools.

At a workshop on taking preventive measures towards eliminating anaemia and malnutrition in the state on Wednesday, the minister called for serious efforts to tackle the twin threats by involving ASHA and anganwadi workers.

According to the Registrar General of India, the country's maternal mortality rate in 2018-2020 was 97. It was 301 in 2001-2003. Similarly, the infant mortality rate was 58 in 2005 and 27 in 2021. Although this is progress, there is still a long way to go, Sudhakar said. Highlighting the importance of breaking the intergenerational cycle, Sudhakar said malnutrition must be addressed within the first two years of birth as it affects both physical and mental development. Especially for girls, care must be given early or it will cause them to give birth to malnourished children in future which will result in continuation of the cycle to continue.

Man, son arrested for robbing advocate

ENS @Bengaluru

THE DJ Halli police have arrested a notorious rowdy and his minor son for allegedly stopping the car of an advocate and assaulting him and his family members before escaping in his car.

The accused has been identified as Manzoor Ahmed alias Dhoon (38) while his son, a minor in conflict with the law, has been booked as per the Juvenile Justice Act. Police said Ashfaq Ahmed, an advocate and a resident of Joseph Reddy Layout in Lingarajapuram, was returning home with his family in a car around 12.30 am on Sunday evening when a gang of four waylaid their vehicle. The gang dragged Ashfaq out of the car and assaulted him, his wife and two children. They allegedly robbed a purse and two mobile phones before escaping in his car.

"The incident was reported to the police around 2 am and within 30 minutes, two accused were traced and arrested and the car recovered from them. The father and son duo was together when they were nabbed and they admitted to having committed the offence. Further investigations revealed that Dhoon has a rowdy sheet on him in Shivajinagar police station since 2006 and is involved in around 25 offences, including murder, robbery and extortion," the police said.

The accused was allegedly extorting people by claiming that he was a relative of a politician and the police are verifying this. "It is found that Dhoon had targeted advocates and robbed them in the past. A few years ago, he was also booked for allegedly threatening former railway minister late Jaffer Shariff. In the present case, two other accused are absconding and they will be nabbed soon," an official said.

CRIME PATROL

m-CCTNS database helps cops nab proclaimed offender

Bengaluru: The m-CCTNS (Crime and Criminal Tracking Network & Systems) helped the police nab a proclaimed offender wanted in a 2010 attempt-to-murder case. Police said the night patrol staff came across a suspicious person near Farm Junction on the night of December 5 and questioned him.Police ran his fingerprints on the m-CCTNS mobile application and found that he was involved in an attempt to murder and a few other cases. "He was identified as Vasanth Kumar (42), an accused in an attempt-to-murder case in KRS police station in Mandya in 2010. He was arrested in the case and had come out on bail. Since 2017, he did not appear for trial so the court declared him a proclaimed offender," police said.

Man kills friend in a drunken brawl

Bengaluru: A 23-year-old man was killed by his friend in Puttenahalli police station limits in the wee hours of Wednesday. The two had gone to a bar to drink. While walking back home, they had a fight over a trivial issue. In the heated argument, the accused killed his friend by slitting the throat with a sharp object. The body was shifted to the Kempegowda Hospital's mortuary for the postmortem.The victim has been identified as Basavaraju from Gadag.

Speeding lorry hits bike, 2 die

Bengaluru: Two salesmen working in a footwear shop have died in an accident in Kamakshipalya traffic police station limits in the wee hours of Wednesday. The two were returning home, when their bike was hit by an over speeding lorry. The victims are Hameed, 24, who was riding the bike and a native of Madikeri and Shameem Ul Haq, 25, from Kerala. Both the victims were shifted to the Victoria Hospital where they succumbed to injuries after some time.

The State Government on Wednesday issued an order asking sugar factories to pay Rs 50 extra per tonne of sugarcane to farmers from the profit made out of ethanol. Sugarcane farmers have been protesting for the last 16 days in Bengaluru as they are unhappy with the profit-sharing model adopted by sugar factories.

State BJP may convince senior leaders not to contest elections

Gujarat strategy may be adopted in Karnataka to give newcomers a chance

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

WITH the state Assembly polls in the next few months, the state BJP is preparing a list of its leaders who are over 70 years old to convince them not to contest the polls to give way for the next generation of leaders. However, conditions apply.

In the present Assembly, BJP has 120 seats, including Savadatti that was represented by late Anand Mamani and Hukkeri whose MLA was Umesh Katti. Sirsi is represented by Speaker Vishweshwar Hegde Kageri. There are many MLAs who have been elected three to four terms and are over 70 years old.

A few months ago, former chief minister BS Yediyurappa, who is 79, had openly said he will not contest in the coming polls. BJP sources said a few more party MLAs are also likely to step back from electoral politics. "A few seniors have said they will not contest because of various reasons, including health," they said.

A senior BJP leader told TNIE that they are preparing a list of such leaders. "Not all can be prevented from contesting as we need some for their winnability, caste factor and popularity. Some senior leaders are over 70 years old, but are also physically fit. We may choose a few leaders and convince them to allow newcomers," said the leader. But at the same time, these senior leaders cannot be forcibly stopped from contesting, he added.

In the recently held Gujarat Assembly elections, BJP denied tickets to many sitting MLAs, allowing newcomers to contest. Karnataka BJP too is expecting a similar mechanism here. "There are such talks here and in New Delhi. The list will not be announced now as it could affect the party prospects. There is a buzz that a few ministers from the Basavaraj Bommai cabinet too may be denied tickets," the sources said.

The opposition Congress too may adopt this strategy and allow new faces in the elections.

'TSUNAMI': WE WILL SWEEP K'TAKA IN 2023, SAYS BOMMAI

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

WITH exit polls predicting a win for the BJP in Gujarat and Himachal Pradesh, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Wednesday exuded confidence of the party returning to power in Karnataka in 2023.

Addressing a gathering during the BJP's Jana Sankalpa Yatra at Koratagere in Tumakuru district, Bommai said there is a pro-BJP wave in Karnataka owing to his government's policies, including the recent hike in SC/ST quota.

He said the Congress will disappear in the "tsunami" of the BJP which will sweep the 2023 Assembly polls. Taking a dig at the Congress government led by Siddaramaiah between 2013 and 2018, Bommai said there was rampant corruption during the CLP leader's rule. "There was corruption in Arkavathy Layout denotification, in procuring pillows and beds for government hostels, in drilling of borewells for SCs/STs...," he added. "Siddaramaiah even weakened the Lokayukta and set up the Anti-Corruption Bureau to cover up cases against him and 50 others. But in the coming days, we will reopen such cases in which B report has been filed," he said.

He accused Siddaramaiah of leaving behind a debt of Rs 2 lakh crore on successive governments. "Their government did nothing with the loan they availed. Most of the irrigation projects that are being implemented now were funded by the BJP. Also, rice under Anna Bhagya scheme was diverted to black market during the Congress regime," he alleged.

Bommai questioned why Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge and Siddaramaiah did not dare to hike the SC/ST quota. "None of the previous governments had shown the courage to hike the quota... but I did it... I hope you all will back me," Bommai said after being felicitated by BJP SC/ST leaders.

Slamming Congress leader Rahul Gandhi after he said that BJP and RSS were ignoring the invocation 'Jai Siyaram', Bommai said, "He (Rahul) has no simple understanding that the word Rama has Sita, Lakshman and Hanuman incorporated in it."

"The choice is yours (voters)... you have to decide if you want to go with Sonia mata ki jai of the Congress or BJP's Bharat mata ki jai," Bommai added. Bommai said senior Congress leader and former deputy CM Dr G Parameshwara has enemies within the Congress who are determined to defeat him.

On party's candidate from Kunigal, Bommai promised to help both former MP Muddahanumegowda, who recently quit the Congress to join the BJP, and Krishna Kumar, who has lost three times. He hinted at fielding Krishna Kumar in 2023 polls and Muddahanumegowda from Bengaluru Rural in 2024 Lok Sabha polls.

Former CM B S Yediyurappa's absence was conspicuous at the yatra on Wednesday. "He had a scheduled programme for the day and hence could not make it. But he had attended all the yatras in the past," CM Bommai clarified.

BOMMAI HINTS AT STATE GOVT TAKING BACK KUNIGAL STUD FARM

CM Basavaraj Bommai hinted at the government taking back the stud farm at Kunigal run by United Racing and Bloodstock Breeders (URBB) of Vijay Mallya as the lease period with the government will come to an end on December 31. "After holding deliberations with local leaders, a government subsidiary will be established," he said.

Vehicles pass through the Kognoli toll plaza along the Karnataka-Maharashtra border on Wednesday evening

A day after, Maha-K'taka border back to normal

A day after pro-Maharashtra activists held a big protest over the border dispute that disrupted traffic on the busy Pune-Bengaluru National Highway, the Kognoli toll plaza near Nipani on the Karnataka-Maharashtra border witnessed normal life on Wednesday.

Private vehicles from Maharashtra, Karnataka and other states were seen plying without any problem. At the toll plaza, a few police personnel and a jeep were stationed to prevent any untoward incident. The police checked only the vehicles that aroused their suspicion and allowed others to pass. But transport corporation buses from both states continued to remain suspended.

Amar Pawar, a resident of Kagal along the border in Maharashtra, said that people on both sides are facing difficulties because of cancelled bus services. Buses from both sides are stopping about a kilometre from the toll plaza. From there, people have to walk 5 km to reach Kagal and catch another bus to move ahead, he added.

Kishore Patil alias Gopi, a tea shop owner at the toll plaza, said businesses near the border have suffered big losses because of the dispute. On Tuesday, all business establishments had to shut because of the protest. On Wednesday, the business is almost nil, he added.

CASES FILED AGAINST KANNADA ACTIVISTS

On the other side, more than 70 Karnataka-bound Maharashtra government buses with passengers were stopped before entering Karnataka.

A large number of passengers from both the states were struggling to catch private vehicles to cross the borders throughout the day.

Meanwhile, the Maharashtra government on Wednesday issued notices to the heads of 11 gram panchayats (GPs) in Akkalkot taluk, Solapur district of Maharashtra, for submitting a memorandum to Solapur DC seeking merger with Karnataka if their villages were not given the basic amenities by the Maharashtra government.

Sources said the police questioned the resolutions passed by the 11 GPs for their merger with Karnataka and said such decisions taken by the local bodies could lead to disturbances. "The leaders must take permission from the government before carrying out protests," the notice said.

Meanwhile, the Hirebagewadi police in Belagavi district have filed FIRs against eight activists of Kannada organisations in connection with violent incidents of stone-throwing registered at Hirebagewadi toll plaza on Tuesday. Several Maharashtra buses and lorries were pelted with stones by the activists which had led to escalation of tensions on the Karnataka-Maharashtra border.

> I normaly sell 12 litres of tea. But on Wednesday, it was less than 2 litres. If this protest continues for a few more days, it will prove to be a curse for us

Meanwhile, Belagavi Superintendent of Police Sanjeev Patil denied rumours of attacks on pilgrims at Yellamma Gudda in Saudatti and Godachi Veerabhadreshwar temple, located in Belagavi district. A large number of devotees from Maharashtra visit the two famous religious places on special occasions. He said attempts were being made to spread false stories about attacks on social media platforms.

The SP said there was a fair of Goddess Renuka Devi taking place at Yellammana Gudda on the occasion of 'Hostila Hunnime'. There was also a fair at Godachi Veerabhadreshwara temple over the past few days. Over 50,000 devotees from neighbouring Maharashtra state visited the pilgrimage on the occasion. Unfortunately, false rumours were being spread on social media that pilgrims from Maharashtra were attacked and also that the police were stopping vehicles from the neighbouring states from entering the pilgrimage centres, he said.

PM Modi to inaugurate Aero India

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi will inaugurate the 14th edition of Aero India, to be held in Bengaluru from February 13 to 17, CM Basavaraj Bommai said on Wednesday.

The five-day event will be held at Air Force Station Yelahanka. Senior officers from the Ministry of Defence had recently met Bommai to discuss issues related to Aero India 2023. The team also took up on-site assessment of the Air Force Station and fast-tracked planning and execution of the mega event.

Speaking after inaugurating Collins Aerospace Global Engineering & Tech Centre in Bengaluru, the CM said Aero India is an international event and aerospace companies located in the state should utilise the platform to highlight their work and the opportunities in the state. Collins Aerospace manufactures, assembles an tests commercial aircraft products.

The chief minister said Indian engineers are highly talented and his dream is to have a facility in Bengaluru that can manufacture all components for aircraft.

Cong to focus on SC/STs with Aikyata Samavesha on Jan 8

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Congress leadership, in an apparent attempt to stop the ruling BJP from claiming credit for increasing the SC/ST quota by 6 per cent, is holding the 'Aikyata Samavesha' focusing on SC/ST communities at Chitradurga on January 8 and Congress leader Priyanka Gandhi Vadra, who gave Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra a miss in Karnataka, is likely to attend. "It is to create awareness that Congress has done a lot to these communities in the past and reassure them that the party is with them. They should not get misguided by the gimmickry of BJP," said former deputy CM Dr G Parameshwara on Wednesday.

"BJP has been claiming it hiked the quota for SCs from 15 to 17 per cent and for STs from 3 to 7 per cent. But it was us who laid the foundation by setting up the Justice Nagamohan Das committee during the Congress-JDS rule. Let BJP give the quota hike a legal framework by introducing it in the 9th schedule of the Constitution," he said.

Asked if the Dalit leadership will make a strong case for a Dalit chief minister if Congress comes to power, he said the party high command may draw inferences from the samavesha. The Bommai government has not allocated the funds proportionate to the population of SC/STs, while the Siddaramaiah government apportioned more, he claimed. "Then, a law was brought in to punish officials if they failed to spend funds allocated and the reservation was also given in contracts for SC/STs. But the BJP government ended all these initiatives and we will present these facts at the samavesha," he said. "The samavesha has been planned at Chitradurga as 52 per cent of the population is SC/ST and BJP has won five out of six Assembly seats there," said ST Nayaka leader VS Ugrappa.

"BJP is dividing the 101 subcastes within SCs and 52 among STs. The samavesha aims to unite all of them under one platform," said former Union minister KH Muniyappa.

'Siddaramullah Khan proof of my secular credentials'

ENS @Bengaluru

Former CM Siddaramaiah hit out at the ruling BJP leaders for calling him 'Siddaramullah Khan' and termed it as a desperate attempt to target him.

Taking a jibe at the BJP leaders, the Badami MLA said he was happy being called by a Muslim name by recognising his work for the welfare of the community and he considers it as an endorsement of his secular credentials.

The Congress leader said he had opposed communal elements in Hindu as well as Muslim communities and never resorted to communal politics and was not surprised by the BJP's campaign against him.

Siddaramaiah said people called him by various names including, Annaramaiah. Raitaramaiah, Kannada Ramaiah and Dalitaramaiah recognising his pro-people work as the CM and he will be happy if he is called Siddaramulla Khan recognising his work for the Muslim community.

The former CM said the BJP is making politically motivated allegations against him after his government started celebrating Tipu Jayanti, though BJP CMs, ministers and MLAs have also celebrated Tipu Jayanti.

Meanwhile, JDS state president CM Ibrahim slammed both the BJP and Congress over the issue. Taking to Twitter, Ibrahim said, "The national parties think that Muslims can be looked down upon... they sow seeds of hatred between communities", he tweeted.

Shariq had conducted research online

Mohammed Shariq had allegedly researched online on some key days of national importance and Hindu religious congregations in Karnataka. "He may have planned to use any of these places and dates to execute his nefarious activities," said sources.

Ali, Hussain and Taha are wanted in terror-related cases and are absconding. Ali is said to be in Saudi Arabia.

Shariq has still not fully recovered. He continues to be in hospital and hence has not been taken into custody for interrogation. The National Investigation Agency (NIA), which has taken over the investigation in the blast case is awaiting his recovery for further probe.

Janardhana Reddy eyes comeback from Gangavati, keeps all options open

KIRAN BALANNANAVAR @Ballari

Former minister and mining baron Gali Janardhana Reddy's decision to "reenter" state politics has sent ripples in both BJP and Congress.

His second political innings, likely from Gangavati in Koppal district, could be by launching his own party, joining the YSR Congress Party of Andhra Pradesh CM Jagan Mohan Reddy or remaining with BJP.

It is said that he is focusing on Koppal and not Ballari, once his dominion, because of his strained relationship with Transport Minister and once-trusted aide B Sriramulu and BJP. The mining baron has been barred by the Supreme Court from entering Ballari in Karnataka and Anantapur and Kadapa in Andhra Pradesh for his alleged role in an illegal iron ore mining case.

Making his intentions clear, Reddy has purchased a house in Vaddaratti on Kanakagiri Road in Gangavati from where he is expected to rework his political way up. He and his followers recently visited Anjanadri Hills to seek blessings at the famous Hanuman temple before starting the endeavour.

The buzz is that if BJP gives a ticket, either he or his wife will contest, and if no ticket is offered, he could launch his own party. This is what has shaken BJP as he could eat into its vote base. "I will tell you all about my next political move after December 18. I am a follower of BJP from day one of my political journey. Former PM Atal Bihari Vajpayee and senior leader Sushma Swaraj are my inspiration. I am waiting for the decision of the BJP top brass," Reddy told reporters recently. "I chose Gangavati town because I don't want to stay in Bengaluru. North Karnataka and Kalyana Karnataka are close to my heart. I want to serve my people," he had said.

There is also talk of Reddy joining hands with YSR Congress as one of his family members is an MP from the party in Andhra Pradesh.

3 more arrested in Coimbatore car blast case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Coimbatore

AN NIA team from Chennai arrested three more suspects, from Coimbatore and Nilgiris, on Wednesday for their alleged involvement in the car blast that occurred in Coimbatore on October 23.

The arrested are identified as M Mohammed Thoufeek (25) from Podanur; B Ferose Khan (28) from South Ukkadam in Coimbatore; and K Umar Faaruq alias K Srinivasan (39), an autorickshaw driver from Ottupattarai near Coonoor in Nilgiris district.

Upon preliminary investigation, it has emerged that the deceased accused of the car blast, Jamesha Mubeen (29) of HMPR Street at Kottaimedu, after swearing allegiance to ISIS, planned to carry out a suicidal attack and cause extensive damage to symbols and monuments of a particular faith, with the intention to strike terror in people. The case was initially registered at Ukkadam police station in Coimbatore, with the NIA taking over later. "Investigations have revealed that Faaruq and Ferose were part of conspiracy meetings attended by Mubeen at Faaruq's residence in Coonoor. They provided support to Mubeen in committing terror acts," the NIA said in a release.

Thoufeek possessed incriminating literature connected to radical thought, and had also written notes on preparing explosives. Further investigation is in progress, the release added. At around 4.30 am on October 23, a car loaded with explosives and driven by Mubeen exploded in front of the Sangameswarar temple at Kottaimedu in Coimbatore. Initially, it was thought to be an accident, but was later revealed to be part of an alleged terror plot. The Coimbatore City Police then arrested six Coimbatore-based men – Muhammad Thalha (25), Muhammad Azharudheen (27), Muhammad Riyas (27), Firoz Ismail (27), Muhammad Nawaz Ismail (27), and Afsar Khan (28) -- and booked them under the UAPA.

PENNILESS NOMAD CARRIES WIFE'S BODY IN GUNNY BAG

K SHIVA KUMAR @Mysuru

IN a tragic incident, a nomad carried the body of his wife in a plastic gunny bag as he could not afford transportation nor had the money to conduct her last rites in Yalandur taluk of Chamrajnagar district.

The nomad couple from Kagepura in Malavalli, Mandya taluk, who were living in abject poverty worked as rag pickers in the region. Ravi and his wife Kalamma (26) came to Kanatanahalli in Yalandur and were collecting waste plastic for their livelihood. They were living in an abandoned house on the national highway. On Tuesday night, Kalamma fell sick and passed away.

Ravi, who found her dead, was not able to borrow money as he was new to the place. He had no choice but to empty a gunny bag which had plastic waste, put the body inside it and carried it on his shoulders to perform the last rites at Suvaranavathi tank bed.

Veerabadranayaka, a shopkeeper, alerted the local police when he was passing through the spot. The villagers suspected that Ravi might have killed his wife and wanted to hide the body. The Yalandur police rushed to the spot only to realise the sad unfolding of events. The autopsy of Kalamma was conducted at the District Hospital. The police are now questioning Ravi.

Yalandur Town Panchayat Chief Executive Officer Mallesh and PSI Kari Basappa arranged earth movers to carry out the funeral at a burial ground near Karipura in the presence of policemen.

'Emergency dept full almost daily at Nimhans'

THIS is not the only case. In another incident, a senior citizen who suffered brain haemorrhage and needed immediate surgery was also denied treatment at Nimhans for the same reason. A doctor from Nimhans, seeking anonymity, told TNIE: "The emergency department is full almost everyday due to which patients are sent back. All the cases that come here are critical in nature and need emergency treatment since other hospitals do not have the expertise which we have. But we do not have the infrastructure. So the government should strengthen the secondary healthcare system to reduce our burden."

Dr Muralidharan, Medical Superintendent, Nimhans, said: "The institute is a tertiary care hospital and cannot admit every patient who comes. We prioritise patients who need specialised care and depending on the intensity of the case, we decide which cases needs more assistance. In the process, some patients are left out."

Dr Muralidharan, however, added that the institute provides consultation to every patient and recommends admission to other government hospitals when cases are not very serious.

He also said that the daily footfall at Nimhans had increased overtime and currently the hospital receives around 2,000 people on a daily basis.

The hospital has 1,096 beds, including 44 ventilator beds, Dr Muralidharan said. On the issue of shortage of beds, he said they do have sufficient beds and can only increase if there is willingness to increase the human resources as well. Nimhans is well-equipped to cater to people. The issue arises when people end up visiting the centre for ailments that are not even treated here, Dr Muralidharan explained.

Officials hope for 12L tonnes harvest next yr

"AS there is no rain forecast for the next few weeks, it is likely to help farmers get a better harvest. Year 2023 will be an 'on' year," Hittalmani said. The flowering has already begun in some of these regions and we can expect the first crop by March-end. In Kolar and Dharwad regions, the crop is harvested in April and May. But it also depends on when the flowering begins.

Horticulture department officials are hoping to get at least 12 lakh tonnes of mangoes in 2023. Since it is an 'on' year, 80 per cent of the flowering will become fruit. "Kolar region is 3,000 metres above sea level and usually flowers late when compared to other regions. These pockets are vulnerable to summer showers and hailstorms that could damage the crop. Despite this, we hope for better yield this year," he said.

Several types of dolphins have been spotted: Expert

"NORMALLY, people watch dolphins from the Kali River bridge. Our Coastal and Marine Ecosystem Cell decided to build a platform from where dolphins can be spotted at Devbagh," Vasanth Reddy, Conservator of Forests, Uttara Kannada district, told TNIE.

At present, Devbagh Jungle Lodges and Resorts organises 'Dolphin Safari' twice every day by taking tourists in a boat. However, the locals say the sight of dolphins is not an unusual thing for them. "I have seen dolphins from a very close range here. Sometimes they are in groups and sometimes single," said Kiran Vasudevamurthy, a student of Marine Biology Department (MBD), Karnataka University Dharwad (KUD).

Suraj S Pujar, another researcher at MBD, KUD said there are many varieties of dolphins which have been sighted here. "Humpback dolphin can be commonly sighted and sometimes finless porpoise can be seen. Both thrive in shallow waters. There are some rare ones too like pan-tropical spotted dolphin and spinner dolphin," said Shivakumar Haragi, Assistant Professor, MBD, KUD.

EXPECT ANOTHER RATE HIKE AS RBI KEEPS TAB ON INFLATION

If the worst of inflation is behind us, as the RBI just confirmed, we must be a few steps away from the endgame of the ongoing rate hike cycle. The first hint arrived on Wednesday when the central bank reduced the quantum of rate increases from 50 bps to 35, acknowledging that inflation is indeed cooling down. However, the captain of caution, Governor Shaktikanta Das, dutifully reminded us that our battle against price rise wasn't yet over. Global commodity and crude prices are easing, but given the geopolitical uncertainties, further price shocks aren't completely ruled out. Moreover, like interest rates, which rise quickly but correct gradually, inflation too peaks in an eye blink but moderates in what appears like a lifetime. The RBI now estimates inflation to average 5–5.25% in the first half of the next fiscal, which is well below the higher tolerance level of 6%, but away from the mandated 4% target.

Globally, the chorus for ending the tightening cycle is getting louder. Only last month, US Federal Reserve Chair Jerome Powell indicated a willingness to reduce the pace of rate hikes starting this month. The trend is visible among economies. As per private estimates, eight central banks delivered 400 bps rate hikes in November, down from 800-plus bps in June and July. Curiously, rate hikes were much sharper in emerging markets than in advanced economies to avoid interest rate differential that upsets foreign investment flows. But as Das noted, India's monetary policy will be dictated only by domestic inflation and growth dynamics and not by peer central bank actions. In other words, RBI is unmindful of the widening interest rate differential, having raised rates by a cumulative 225 bps against the Fed's 350 bps increase.

Assuming a headline inflation of 5–5.25% in the next fiscal, RBI's terminal rate is seen at 6.25%. It's the point where the repo rate is anchored before the rate cut cycle begins. Analysts expect the February policy decision to be "finely split between a pause and a last 25 bps hike" with a bias towards a hike considering the sticky core inflation. That said, as economists at HDFC Bank observed, when a central bank combines its sanguine view on growth with continued concerns on inflation, it suggests the battle-readiness to raise rates at will. RBI's reluctance to shift to a neutral stance further validates its bias towards hikes for now.

VIZHINJAM STIR CALLED OFF, BUT ISSUES REMAIN

The 140-day-long agitation against Vizhinjam International Seaport ended on Tuesday as the Thiruvananthapuram Latin Archdiocese, spearheading the struggle, called off the stir abruptly, giving a political victory to the LDF government. The Latin church was forced to call a truce even as the state government stuck to its position and did not concede anything more than it had already promised. While the government exhibited its will power in the way it handled the agitation, the fate of the struggle is a study of how a marginalised community's genuine concerns get sidelined by vested interests and the leadership's immature ways of handling the protests. It really is a case of how not to organise an agitation.

The Latin church erred initially with its unrealistic demand for stopping the port construction after a vast amount of money had already been invested. Its next mistake was to link all the woes of the coastal belt in Vizhinjam to the construction of the port, though there is ample scientific proof that climate change is playing havoc on coastal belts in Kerala and across the world. Every issue the protestors raised was genuine and needed to be addressed. But the way the struggle was hijacked by the Latin diocese gave a religious colour to the agitation, and it failed to garner the support of the general public. The attack on the police station and the hate speeches of certain priests backfired.

Though the agitation has fizzled, the issues and concerns raised by the coastal community cannot be overlooked. That the coastal belt is in distress like never before is a stark reality for all to see. Coastal erosion is a reality, and so is hundreds of people losing their lives and livelihoods. The coastal community has always been an outlier, and it continues to be so despite successive governments claiming to spend crores of rupees every year. The government should make the rehabilitation programme for them a top priority.

Equally important are issues related to coastal erosion, weather warning systems, and financial assistance for tiding over damages caused by bad weather situations. That the coastal agitation fizzled out only shows the community's vulnerability in multiple ways. The government may have won the war of ego with the Latin church, but it should not mean it can ignore the protestors' concerns.

QUICK TAKE

STARTUP TROUBLES IN KASHMIR

The government plans to wean Kashmiri youth from scarce government jobs, encouraging them to become entrepreneurs instead. It's incentivising startups, particularly in agro-processing, biomedical engineering and telemedicine. Agri-tech startups have immense potential, given Kashmir's tremendous biodiversity. Some growth is visible, but the startup culture is yet to catch the youth's imagination. Facing severe joblessness, they prefer moving out of Kashmir to more peaceful and resourceful states. At the same time, the government must pay heed to the investors who find the region's stability and volatility concerns and internet interruptions unsettling. The growing presence of angel investors, however, keeps hopes alive.

In the globalisation era, relations are not what they once were. India and its neighbours must reassess their ties

GOOD OR BAD, A NEIGHBOUR IS STILL A NEIGHBOUR

PRADIP PHANJOUBAM
Editor of Imphal Review of Arts and Politics

SOURAV ROY

"If you can change friends, not neighbours." The timeless wisdom in this statement by former Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee often tends to be treated as just another colourful adage to embellish clever essays, but has deserved little more than a place in the archives of wise sayings. This is unfortunate, considering it has been demonstrated time and again that some of the most bitter conflicts in history—Ukraine being the most recent—resulted from neglecting this understanding.

In the age of globalisation and the importance of cross-border trade and commerce, international relations are certainly no longer what they were. However, memories of atavistic enmities long past their eras tend to linger on, especially when stoked by politicians to whip up primal kinship loyalties, often leading to no good other than electoral dividends for some.

India and its neighbours hence need to reassess their relations, for no matter what, they are destined to remain neighbours. India-China relations is one of these. The two Asian giants share a 3,488 km boundary, with Nepal and Bhutan splitting it into three parts. Of these, the boundary in the Kashmir sector is the most ambiguous because the British left behind three unilaterally conceived alignments to address their insecurity—Tsarist Russia.

Henry McMahon spelled out this anxiety in a letter to Viceroy Lord Hardinge, quoted in A G Noorani's India-China Boundary Problem, 1846–1947. McMahon wrote: "If we consider the existing boundary between Chinese dominion and India, it will be seen that a Russian occupation of Chinese territories in the New Dominion will bring Russia within 150 miles of Srinagar and within 300 miles of Simla..."

Karunakar Gupta, another scholar, outlined these three alignments in a 1980 article in Economic and Political Weekly:

(1) Sir John Ardagh Line (1897) which showed a boundary alignment taking the crest of the Kunlun range and placed within British territory the upper reaches of the Yarkand river and its tributaries and the Karakash river, as well as the whole of the Aksai Chin plateau. (2) Macartney-MacDonald Line (1899), which put forth a less ambitious territorial claim north of the Karakoram ranges ... it left to China the whole of the Karakash Valley and almost all of the Aksai Chin proper. (3) The Karakoram Line which was based on the watershed principle.

These alignments were neither accepted nor rejected by the home government. Independent India is still facing the consequences of these ambiguities today. Viceroy Hardinge ultimately opted to go for the boundary alignment suggested by Sir John Ardagh in 1897 but without physically occupying the claimed land. However, post 1962, the Line of Actual Control in this sector is closer to the Macartney-MacDonald Line. The Sikkim sector, where there are no disputes for the Sikkim-Tibet boundary, is backed by an 1890 agreement between Lhasa and the British, Sikkim being a British protectorate then.

The border in the Northeast sector, extending up to Myanmar, is the McMahon Line, agreed by notes exchanged between Tibetan plenipotentiary Lonchen Shatra and British Indian plenipotentiary Henry McMahon during the Simla Conference in 1913–1914. I-fan Chen, Chinese plenipotentiary, not much later walked out of the conference before it concluded. Today, the Chinese do not officially recognise this line, although it remains the effective border between the two countries.

Why exactly were the Chinese invited to the Simla Conference to decide the India-Tibet boundary? It was again the British anxiety about Russia. To keep Russia away from Tibet, Britain forced the St. Petersburg Convention 1907 on Russia, then quite weakened by a humiliating naval defeat at the hands of Imperial Japan in 1905. Russia and Britain had also become allies in Europe by then. One of the clauses of this treaty was that if either party becomes compelled to deal with Tibet, it would be through an intermediary—China.

Interestingly, at the start of the Simla Conference, when McMahon asked his counterparts to table their notion of the boundary, the Chinese plenipotentiary was not even sure what their position was, as Parshotam Mehra notes in his Essays in Frontier History: India, China and the Disputed Border. Obviously, Chinese claims to territories in India now would have to be an adoption of what the Tibetans claim was their sphere of influence once.

Quite understandably, China cannot officially recognise the McMahon Line for this would amount to recognising Tibet—which it considers was always integrally a part of China—possessing sovereign power to sign international treaties. Hence, the area that could be explored is to see if China would ratify more or less the same boundary alignment through another bilateral treaty. There is also the example of Myanmar (Burma then). China settled its boundary with Burma in 1960. Notably, the Burma-China boundary is a continuation from where the McMahon Line ends. Again, at the time of the Simla Conference, Burma was part of British India. The Burma-China Boundary Treaty of October 1, 1960, though more or less the same one the British left behind, in this way, ceased to be a colonial legacy.

Another interesting example from history should also be a cause for optimism. China did not accept the Convention of Lhasa 1904, which Tibet was forced to sign after Lord Curzon's Younghusband expedition of 1904. However, after China persuaded the British to enter into another treaty, the Peking Convention 1906, to supersede the Convention of Lhasa 1904, China had no problem including most of the terms of the Lhasa Convention in the Peking Convention. Again, in January 1951, even as China began its campaign to take over Tibet, India decided to end the concession given to Lhasa (the monastic taxes the British previously allowed Lhasa to levy) to exercise a degree of cultural suzerainty over the Tawang Tract, which is on the Indian side of the McMahon Line. China did not protest against this. Yet again, in 1962, after open hostility broke out, China attacked India and overran Assam. However, exactly a month later, on November 20, China unilaterally withdrew behind the McMahon Line.

Good fences make good neighbours. India and China must strive to mend fences then to be good neighbours at least—if not good friends.

REALITY CHECK ON CLIMATE GOALS

KAJAL BASU
Veteran journalist

The 2022 United Nations Climate Change Conference, or COP27, came and went in November 2022 without much of a critical prognosis in the Indian media or environmental circles. India's official statement at the summit coasted on what Union Minister for Environment, Forest and Climate Change Bhupender Yadav referred to as "a one-word mantra" set by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, with his penchant for anagrams, at COP26 in November 2021: "Lifestyle for Environment", or "Mission LiFE".

At COP27, India showcased its Long-term Strategy (LTS) for Low Carbon Development. Even a cursory perusal shows that this strategy is based on already-current policies—nothing particularly forward-looking there—and only waves vaguely in a general futuric direction while trotting out queryable statistical assurances.

In August 2022, India officially submitted its updated NDC (nationally determined contribution) targets, originally set at COP26. The new NDC is essentially a reassertion of the 2030 target.

For reasons of developmental equity between the highly pollutive Global North and the Global South, at COP26, Modi fixed 2070 as India's net-zero greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions year (with the far more polluting US at 2050 and China at 2060—which means that India will continue polluting for longer).

In official bumf, India is marching resolutely towards a green emissions future. At COP26, Prime Minister Narendra Modi pledged to increase India's non-fossil fuel energy capacity to 500 GW by 2030. By the same year, half of India's electricity would be from renewable sources, with one billion tonnes lower carbon emissions.

In addition, the Draft National Electricity Plan 2022 says that by 2031–32, relative to 2021–22, India is planning to increase solar and wind capacity by six and three times, respectively.

But the Government of India's gung-ho disdains the intricate matter of doability. The globally poor adherence to the 2015 Paris Agreement shows that it is as easy to break steely promises as it is to make them. 500 GW of non-fossil energy is, for instance, four times the existing capacity and eight years too short of making up. Also, the Central Electricity Authority's Draft National Electricity Plan 2022 projects not a drop in coal use but the installation of coal-fired capacity of 267 GW by 2030, which would call for adding 58 GW of net new capacity. Subsidies for fossil fuels remain nine times higher than for renewables. Coal is India's main source of greenhouse gas emissions, the third largest in the world.

Even carbon-capture storage (CCUS)—which entails capturing waste CO2 and transporting it to a storage site where it will be sequestered from the atmosphere—envisages the commercial installation of CCUS not before 2030, when emissions are predicted to peak.

India seems to have no emissions or decarbonisation pathway showing how it plans to reach net zero by 2070. First, India has not clarified whether the net-zero by 2070 encompasses all greenhouse gas emissions or just CO2.

AP

> As its population rises and living standards improve, India is also poised to undergo sharp growth in areas that are particularly hard to decarbonise, such as the construction sector

Second, according to the Getting India to Net Zero report, commissioned by the High-level Policy Commission on Getting Asia to Net Zero and released in August 2022, India will need an economy-wide investment of $10.1 trillion, starting right now, to get to net zero by 2070; if the target is advanced to 2050—which many environmentalists consider to be more proactive—the investment would be $13.5 trillion. These are unrealistic sums, several times India's current GDP. Third, the proportion of coal, oil, and gas in India's primary energy cauldron must fall from 75% to 5% if net-zero is to be reached by 2050—again, infeasible because coal-use is being ramped up.

In 2019, India was the seventh most badly-affected country by extreme weather events—in terms of fatalities (2,267) and economic losses ($66 billion). In fact, 17 out of 20 Indians (85% of the population of 1.4 billion, or 1.19 billion) are vulnerable to extreme hydrological and meteorological (hydromet) disasters such as floods, drought, and cyclones.

The UK consultancy Verisk Maplecroft, while ranking the environmental and climate-related risks of 576 of the world's largest cities, found that Asia is home to 99 of the 100 most vulnerable cities—of which 43 are in India.

Where is India placed in terms of the promise of the 2015 Paris Agreement to limit the temperature increase to <1.5°C? Poorly, according to Climate Action Tracker (CAT), an independent body that tracks 39 countries and the EU, measuring government climate action against the globally agreed Paris Agreement aim of "holding warming well below 2°C, and pursuing efforts to limit warming to 1.5°C".

India's policies and actions, according to CAT? Insufficient. Fair-share target? Insufficient. Both would lead to a world warmer by <3°C. Internationally supported target? Critically insufficient, it would lead to a world warmer by >4°C.

India's Ministry of Earth Sciences (MoES) agrees with the last, noting in its 2020 report, Assessment of Climate Change over the Indian Region, that, based on 1901–2018 data, the rise in the mean surface air temperature over India in the mid-term (2040–69) will be 2.70°C, and 4.44°C in the long-term (2070–99).

Under the Paris Agreement, India is supposed to have 175 GW of installed renewable capacity by December 2022. India later reappraised it to 70%, or 122.5 GW. But Central Electricity Authority data shows that, by November, it was only about 116 GW—34% less than pledged by year-end.

The lag isn't in large renewables facilities alone. India was scheduled to have installed 40 GW of rooftop solar by 2022 but had installed just 6 GW by 2021—or 85% behind its target.

As its population rises and living standards improve, India is also poised to undergo sharp growth in areas that are particularly hard to decarbonise, such as the construction sector. Moreover, according to the International Energy Agency (IEA), "nearly 60% of [India's] emissions in the late 2030s will be coming from infrastructure and machines that do not exist today."

India's environmental plans are far from future-proof.

A poem on football

Swaroop Swaminathan's reflection on the match between Brazil and South Korea is lucid. His tracing the history and the way Brazil played this match is enlightening and informative. I was bowled over by his reflection as it reflected what I felt upon seeing the highlights. "Titles and trophies are overrated, anyway" said a lot. If Brazil played a brilliant first half, Swaroop has written poetry on that match.

Clear solution needed

Apropos of 'Unsatisfied', but Church calls off stir (Dec 7). It is encouraging that after 140 days of protest, Kerala's government recognised the protest council's requests. Paying compensation, however, is not a reliable fix for this issue. Construction work should not resume until the government-appointed expert group has looked into the consequences of Vizhinjam Port and comes up with a clear solution.

K'taka-Maha boundary clash

Apropos of Politics over people in K'taka-Maha dispute (Dec 7). This dispute goes back to the reorganisation of states based on language, resulting in the Maharashtra government being unhappy with Belagavi going to Karnataka. This boundary dispute, like many others, is stuck in the SC. These areas have been with one state or the other for so long that it would be unfeasible to redefine them now.

Govt must end dispute

Apropos of Politics over people in K'taka-Maha dispute (Dec 7). As noted in the editorial, the border dispute affects the people in the states next door like Tamil Nadu and Kerala. People passing through the borders are tortured by the police. The government must take steps to end this.

Human life a commodity

Apropos of 7 held for buying, selling newborn babies in Punjab (Dec 7). I'm sickened to hear that some people in Punjab are comparing human life to a commodity and trying to buy and sell babies. The state government must take serious action against the people who dared to do this.

Co-op Bill tabled in House amid din

Opposition members want the bill to be sent to a standing committee for review

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE first day of the winter session of the Parliament witnessed vociferous scenes as the government tabled Multi-State Co-operative Societies (Amendment) Bill, 2022, in the Lok Sabha amidst demands from various Opposition parties that it be sent to a standing committee for review. The Bill, introduced by Minister of State for Cooperation BL Verma, seeks to bring in transparency and accountability in the sector.

The government claims that the bill is intended to strengthen governance, reform the electoral process, and ensure ease of doing business in multi-state co-operative societies.

However, Opposition MPs from Congress, TMC, and DMK attacked the government saying that the Bill is a violation of federalism and its provisions are impinging on the rights of state governments.

Leader of Congress in the Lok Sabha Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury said that the Bill may lead to the concentration of power of the central government, which may impact the autonomy and functioning of the multi-state cooperative society and create potential for misuse. This government has always called for cooperative federalism and it should have been followed before drafting the Bill, he said.

Congress MP Manish Tewari demanded the withdrawal of the Bill and alleged that some provisions of the bill "strike at the heart of the autonomy of cooperative societies".

"This Bill should be withdrawn. It should be reconsidered as it violates and attacks the federal spirit of the Constitution with a sledgehammer," he said. DMK leader R Baalu also demanded that the Bill should be referred to the standing Committee for review. However, in his reply, MoS Verma said that the amendments to the Bill have been introduced several times in the past.

The Lok Sabha also debated the Anti- Maritime Piracy Bill, which seeks to formulate a law to deal with piracy in international waters. The bill, which was introduced in Lok Sabha on December 9, 2019, was referred to a standing committee of Parliament. While moving the Bill, External Affairs minister S Jaishankar said that the government has tried to incorporate 14 of the 18 recommendations of the parliamentary panel. However, Manish Tewari expressed concern over the growing Chinese presence in the Indian Ocean.

Earlier in the day, the House saw uproar over Maharashtra-Karnataka border dispute issue. Raising the issue, NCP MP Supriya Sule claimed that Karnataka is inciting trouble in both the states. "They are conspiring to break Maharashtra. The people of Maharashtra are being beaten up and BJP is in power in both the states," she said.

As soon as the House met in the morning, the members paid tributes to Samajwadi Party patriarch Mulayam Singh Yadav and eight other members.

Meanwhile, leaders of 14 opposition parties from both Houses of Parliament met in the morning at the office of Mallikarjun Kharge, Leader of Opposition, Rajya Sabha to discuss issues to be taken up during the session. Interestingly, leaders of the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) and TMC also participated in the meeting.

WINTER SESSION

56 cases filed by CBI against MPs, MLAs in 5 years: Govt

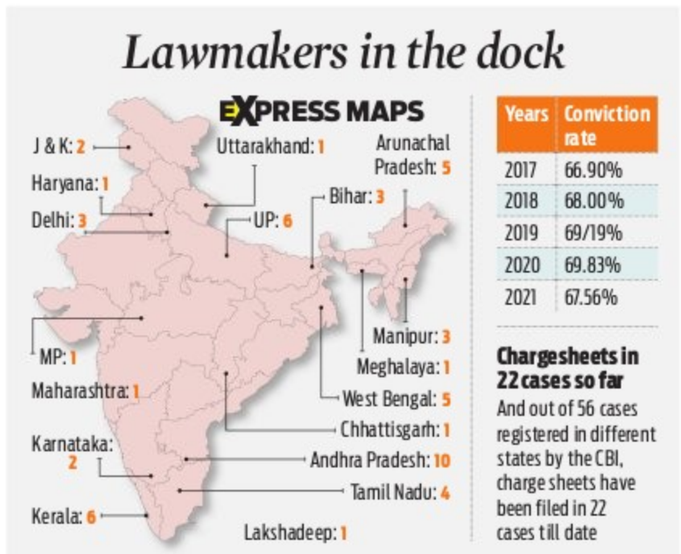
RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

AS no one is above the law, as many as 56 cases were lodged against the country's members of legislative assembly (MLAs) and the Members of Parliament (MPs) in the last five years by the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI).

And out of 56 cases registered in different states by the central agency CBI, charge sheets have been filed in 22 cases till date.

Sharing this through a written reply to the question of a Lok Sabha member on the first day of the winter session of the Parliament on Wednesday, Minister of State for Personnel, Public Grievances and Pension and Minister of State in the PMO Jitendra Singh said that 56 cases were registered against the MLAs and the MPs from 2017 to October 31 in 2022. "Out of 56 cases registered, chargesheets have been filed in 22 cases," the minister said, adding details on the conviction rate in the CBI cases during the last five years. According to the minister's written reply in the Lok Sabha, 66.90% was the Conviction rate of cases lodged against the MLAs and the MPs in 2017, followed by 68.00% in 2018, 69.19% in 2019, 69.83% in 2020 and 67.56% in 2021.

The Minister further added through data that the highest number of 10 cases against the MLAs and the MPs were lodged in the last 5 years in Andhra Pradesh.



Some setbacks, but first-ever CUET conducted successfully, says Centre

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

THE Centre on Wednesday said the scale of the first-ever Common University Entrance Test (CUET) was huge and some difficulties were faced by students due to technical and geo-climatic reasons leading to rescheduling. However, the Union Education Ministry told the Rajya Sabha in a written reply that the overall process was managed successfully.

"There is no information that CUET has adversely affected the studies, and it has resulted in cost escalation of graduation, rather one student has been able to apply to more than one university with a single application," said Dr Subhas Sarkar, Minister of State for Education, to a question that the exam adversely affected the studies of the students. To another question, whether the cost of graduation has increased for the students due to the introduction of CUET, the minister said, "the exam resulted in saving on cost and effort needed earlier to secure admission in their universities."

The minister said Delhi University started its classes earlier this year than last.

The last date for admissions to the University of Delhi in the previous three years was August 31, 2019 (2019-20), January 15, 2021 (2020-21) and December 31, 2021 (2021-22).

Dr Sarkar said in pursuance of the National Education Policy (NEP), 2020, the CUET was conducted for admission in central universities from the academic year 2022-23 to reduce the burden on students, universities and the entire education system.

Accordingly, the National Testing Agency (NTA) conducted this examination for approximately 14,90,293 candidates.

RS chair combo of jawan and kisan, says Modi

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

Prime Minister Narendra Modi speaks in the Rajya Sabha on the first day of the winter session of Parliament in New Delhi on Wednesday | PTI

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Wdnesday welcomed Vice President Jagdeep Dhankar for assuming the charge of Rajya Sabha chairman on behalf of all RS members at the start of Winter Session of the Parliament and said new RS chairman carries elements of both jawan (solider) and kisan (farmer) in his personality. Highlighting the close association of the V-P with jawans and Kisans, the PM said: "Our Vice President is a Kisanputra (son of farmer) and he studied at a Sainik School. Thus, he is closely associated with jawan and kisan."

He said, "Today, the V-P is formally beginning charge as chairman of this house. Many former prime ministers have been members of this august house at some time and many political stalwarts have started their journey from here. I am confident that his leadership will further enhance the dignity of this House."

He also saluted the armed forces on the occasion of the Armed Forces Flag Day.

Referring to Dhankhar's humble origins, he noted that President Droupadi Murmu, who comes from the tribal society of India, is guiding the country, while the son of a farmer has now reached the top position in the Rajya Sabha.

"The country is happy to see the achievements of 'Kithana's lal' (son)," Modi said, referring to Dhankhar's birthplace Kithana in Rajasthan.

Amended Wild Life Bill tabled in Rajya Sabha

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

UNION Minister for Environment, Forest & Climate Change Bhupendra Yadav on Wednesday moved the Wild Life (Protection) Amendment Bill, 2021 in the Upper House for taken into consideration for amendments.

While moving the Bill, the minister informed the Upper House that a special chapter has been added to conform to the International Treaty Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Fauna and Flora.

He further said that the Bill makes amendments for better management of protected areas and the Wild Life livestock and other issues. "This Bill has been passed in the Lok Sabha earlier and we want to get it passed also by the Rajya Sabha," the minister said.

Centre plans to set up 10 heavy water reactors, 5 N-plants: Min

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

INDIA is likely to get a further enhancement in its capacity of clean energy generation from the nuclear plants as the Central government has decided to go ahead with setting up five more nuclear power plants.

The Central government has accorded in principle approval for five new sites for setting up the nuclear power plants in near future.

This has been done in addition to according the administrative approval and financial sanction for the construction of 10 new indigenous Pressurised Heavy Water Reactors (PHWRs). Apart from all this, 11 reactors, capable of generating 8700 MW of clean energy, are currently under-construction in the country.

Union Minister Atomic Energy and Space, Dr Jitendra Singh, on Wednesday on the first day of ongoing Winter Session of Parliament through a written reply said that the government has accorded in principle approval for five sites for setting up Nuclear Power plants in the future. "The tariffs of electricity generated by nuclear power plants are comparable to those of contemporary conventional base load generators like thermal power," the minister replied in his written reply.

He added further that present installed nuclear power capacity comprises of 22 reactors with a total capacity of 6780 MW.

Govt has rejected Ranganath panel's report on converted Dalits, SC told

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Central government on Wednesday informed the Supreme Court that the government had taken a decision to not accept Justice Ranganath Mishra's Commision's report. The Commission's 2007 report on Religious and Linguistic Minorities had recommended permitting Dalits who converted into Islam and Christianity to avail Scheduled Caste status.

Appearing before the bench of Justice SK Kaul, AS Oka and Vikram Nath, Solicitor Genral Tushar Mehta also apprised the bench of the recently appointed three-member commission, headed by former Chief Justice of India K G Balakrishnan which has been tasked to consider the possibility of granting SC status to "new persons who have historically belonged to the Scheduled Castes" but have converted to religions other than Hinduism, Buddhism and Sikhism.

The submissions were made by S-G in pleas seeking scheduled caste status for Dalit Christian and Muslim converts. The pleas argue that exclusion of Christian and Muslim Dalits from the list of Scheduled Caste was discriminatory. Currently as per the Constitution (Scheduled Castes) Order, 1950 only Dalits of Hindus, Sikh and Buddhist faith can be categorised as SCs.

Appearing for Centre for Public Interest Litigation, Advocate Prashant Bhushan had contended that it was completely unconstitutional to discriminate on the grounds of religion. Referring to the Union's affidavit, Bhushan said, "Now, the government is saying that we want to appoint another commission who will be headed by ex-CJI KG Balakrishna to consider. They want the matter to be deferred for two years. Problem is that ones who are converted into Muslims and Christians are suffering from discrimination. Today, that's what we are and this is a short question."

Considering the submissions in the case, the SC bench said that it would firstly consider whether it should await the report of a new commission appointed under ex-CJI KG Balakrishnan or proceed with the material already available. While directing to list the pleas in January, 2023, court in their order said, "First aspect which has to be dealt with is whether the court should stay its hands or proceed with material available on record."

ED gets 7 days more to quiz Arora in Delhi excise case

AMIT MUKHERJEE @ New Delhi

A special court at Rouse Avenue extended the custodial remand of businessman and liquor trader Amit Arora by seven more days in the money laundering probe in connection with the scrapped Delhi Excise policy following emergence of fresh facts, names and evidence.

Special Judge Vikas Dhull allowed ED to quiz Arora, the director of Gurugram-based Buddy Retail Pvt Limited, for another week, till December 14, in custodial remand as the investigating agency petitioned for an extension in the wake of fresh revelations, seizures and disclosures. Arora's remand of initial 7 days, after he was arrested on 29 November, ended on Wednesday following which the ED sought an extension in its application moved through advocate Mohd Faizan Khan.

The ED counsel, NK Matta, told the court that "voluminous documents" were seized during the first seven days of Arora's remand and fresh facts, evidences and leads have come up when he was confronted with other accused (in custody) and witnesses.

PANDEMIC FALLOUT

'NO OF SCHOOLS, TEACHERS DOWN DUE TO COVID-19'

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

THE Centre on Wednesday said that the number of schools and teachers declined due to the rationalisation by state governments and closures during Covid-19 pandemic.

While in 2020-21, as many as 15 lakh schools were functioning, in 2021-22, it came down to 14 lakh. In 2020-21, there were 96 lakh teachers, which dipped to 95 lakh in 2021-22, the Union Education Ministry informed the Rajya Sabha in a written reply.

The decline in schools in 2021-22 is mainly due to the rationalisation of schools by various state governments and the closure of private and other schools during the pandemic, Annapurna Devi, Minister of State for Education, said.

Similarly, the main reason for decline in teachers is due to the deployment of fewer teachers in private schools during the pandemic period when schools were operating through online mode, she said.

She said to improve the quality of education in the country, the Department of School Education and Literacy has taken various steps, including a national initiative for proficiency in reading with understanding and numeracy, the integrated training programme of teachers and structured assessment for analysing learning level, competency-based assessment in CBSE schools for grades 3, 5 and 8.

Many schools in India were closed as part of the national policy of rationalisation that was implemented. Under that, those schools were targeted with low enrolment rates or were run by single teachers.

The policy's main aims included ensuring that resources were used more effectively.

According to the government, majority of the schools are under the domain of respective state and UT governments.

Son set to wed outside tribe, minister faces social boycott

Satyanand Bhokta marrying son outside ST for 'political benefits'

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

IN an interesting move, state Labour Minister and Chatra MLA, Satyanand Bhokta, has been socially boycotted by his own community, Khairwar Bhokta Samaj Vikas Sangh, for marriage his son outside the community for political benefits.

Notably, Ganjhus (Bhoktas) have been given tribal status recently in the state, and hence, the minister will not be able to contest from his present Assembly seat, Chatra, as it is reserved for SCs. Therefore, he is trying to play big by marrying his son with an SC girl eyeing Chatra Assembly seat, which is his stronghold.

The community has decided not to keep any contact with the minister and his family, which means no participation either in any marriage, death or any other social activities performed by him.

A press release issued by the Sangh stated that the decision was taken on Wednesday during a meeting to discuss various issues, including the minister marrying his son in another community.

According to the community leaders, had it been a love marriage they would have accepted it, but the minister is deliberately marrying his son to a SC girl just for political benefits, which is not acceptable at all.

Chatra assembly seat now reserved for SC

Ganjhus (Bhoktas) have been given tribal status recently in the state, and hence, Satyanand Bhokta will not be able to contest from his present Assembly seat, Chatra, as it is reserved for SCs. Therefore, he is trying to play big by marrying his son with an SC girl eyeing Chatra Assembly seat, which is his stronghold

"Inter-caste marriage has been banned in our community as tribal society has its own traditions and arrangements, which has been violated by the minister for the sake of his political benefits, which is not acceptable at all. Therefore, he has been socially boycotted under the rules of the Bhokta community," said central president of Khairwar Bhokta Samaj Vikas Sangh, Darshan Ganjhu.

The minister is eyeing the Chatra seat, which is reserved for Schedule Caste and hence, he is marrying his younger son to an SC girl, he added.

"The minister has put the norm of the community at stake in the greed of post and power which is not acceptable, and hence, a decision has been taken. Everyone is the same before the community whether he is a daily-wage labourer or a minister. No one is above the community," said Ganjhu. Earlier also, the minister opposed the proposed bill for giving ST status for Khairwar Bhokta Samaj, following which, his effigies were burnt by the community members, he added.

Ganjhu also warned that, "Anyone violating the decision will also be boycotted from the community."

Another functionary of the Sangh, Jagdish Bhokta, also confirmed the decision saying that what the minister is doing is not acceptable to them.

Satyanand Bhokta on the other hand stands still with his decision, saying that Bhokta means Satyanand Bhokta.

Not allowed to speak in Parl, alleges Rahul

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

RAHUL Gandhi has alleged in his Bharat Jodo Yatra that he was not allowed to speak in the Parliament. He said that Parliament TV likes the face of the Lok Sabha speaker Om Birla which is why he is shown on TV for 24 hours.

Rahul was addressing a Nukkad Sabha in Rajasthan's Kota district on Wednesday and added, "Sansad TV likes the face of Speaker Om Birla from Kota. We want to speak on unemployment, inflation, GST, farmers' problems and demonetisation, but we are not allowed to speak. If you want to, then the mike is switched off."

Om Birla is Member of Parliament from Kota.

Along with this, he also took up the issue of Eastern Rajasthan Canal Project by the Centre. He said that through ERCP, irrigation and drinking water will be provided to 13 districts. "The Central Government had talked about declaring this project as a national project... PM had made this promise, but has not fulfilled it. Now when the Rajasthan government is making this project, the Centre is stopping it," he said.

WB govt releases ₹714 cr for rural infra development

PRANAB MANDAL @ Kolkata

EYEING next year's panchayat elections, the state government released ₹714 crore for the development of rural infrastructure as the Central government is yet to release funds under the 100-day job scheme citing irregularities.

Sources in the state government said jobs will be created in rural Bengal with the help of the fund, said an official of the finance department.

The latest release of funds was followed by a meeting chaired by chief secretary H K Dwivedi with district magistrates and secretaries of different departments. "During the meeting, the issue of unavailability of funds emerged and in a war footing measure, the finance department released the sum, which will be spent through 13 departments," said the official.

Among the departments, panchayat and rural development department has been sanctioned the highest share of fund, which is ₹300 crore. "Most of the rural development works like construction of roads, culverts, digging up tube wells and canals and sewer lines are carried out by gram panchayats. Once the local rural bodies start spending the fund, it will not only develop the infrastructure of the area but also offer jobs for the local people," said the officer.

An official, finance department

The public works department has been sanctioned ₹100 crore of the total fund which will be spent for building new structures and renovating existing buildings.

"The Centre is yet to approve the labour budget for the 2022-23 fiscal. Months to go for the panchayat polls and rural development works have a deep impact on the rural electorates. The new fund will help us to send a message to the rural voters that the state government is keen to serve the poor people living in rural Bengal when the Centre is depriving them by not releasing the state's share," said a TMC leader.

Lucknow touches zero Covid-19 mark

After a long span of 32 months, the city of Nawabs touched zero Covid figure mark as the last patient recovered from the ailment and no new case was reported, claim health authorities. The last patient who recovered and discharged on Tuesday had tested positive last week. "This zero is a precious figure and we are making all efforts to sustain the status in Covid," said Dr Manoj Agrawal, Lucknow CMO. Lucknow has never had zero Covid active case status since the pandemic started in 2020. The first case, of a doctor who had returned from Canada, in the state capital was reported in the third week of March, 2020.

10 UP heritage sites up for adoption

UP archaeological directorate have shortlisted 10 heritage sites for adoption under 'Adopt Heritage Scheme.' These sites include Alambagh building of Lucknow, Potrakund in Mathura, Kalpa Devi and Astik Baba temples in Sitapur, Caves of Devgarh of Lalitpur, Raj Mandir Guptar Ghat in Ayodhya, Lakshmi temple in Jhansi, Fort of Tahrauli in Jhansi, Fort of Balabehat in Lalitpur, Digragarhi in Jhansi and Shiv temple of Bithoor in Kanpur. Those interested in adopting a heritage site would be known as 'Smarak Mitra' and would sign a memorandum of understanding with the department and work towards the conservation of the site.

22-year-old develops 6-seater e-cycle

All that innovation needs is a brilliant mind and passion coupled with patience to apply it. Asad Abdullah, 22, of Azamgarh proved it by developing a 6-seater electric cycle. Asad's innovation got recognition by none other than but Anand Mahindra, chairman of Mahindra Group, who tweeted a small video of the cycle and made the innovation viral so much so that the video has crossed 1 million views since December 1. Mahindra tagged the chief design officer, auto sector of his company asking if this device could find global application. With the cost of petrol going up, Abdullah conceptualised the idea of developing an electric cycle in which six people can be accommodated.

Question in Valley: Will Omar fight poll without restoration of statehood?

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

WITH National Conference president Farooq Abdullah calling on his son and former Chief Minister Omar Abdullah to contest the forthcoming Assembly polls in the Union Territory, it remains to be seen whether Omar, who has announced not to contest Assembly polls till restoration of statehood to J&K, will reconsider his decision and contest the Assembly polls likely to be held in mid 2023.

Farooq Abdullah in his first speech after taking over as the NC president for another three years term, asserted that his son and former CM Omar Abdullah would have to contest the Assembly polls.

After the abrogation of Articles 370 and 35A and bifurcation of J&K state into two Union Territories by Centre, Omar Abdullah and PDP chief Mehbooba Mufti have announced that he would not contest the Assembly polls in J&K till restoration of statehood.

"I am the party president and I am telling you (Omar) that you will have to contest the polls. We all have to jump into the fray and contest polls to defeat them," Abdullah said.

It now remains to be seen whether Omar, who is NC's vice president, would obey his party president and reconsider his decision. According to a political analyst, CM in a UT is not powerful as the real power lies with the Lt Governor, who can overrule cabinet decisions and hamper smooth function of the government as is the case in Delhi UT.

"This might have played a role in Omar's decision not to contest the Assembly polls in UT. After being a powerful CM yielding all powers including that of home department, Omar has taken a principle stand not to contest the Assembly polls fully knowing that CM in UT is powerless," he said.

The political commentators feel that after Abdullah's suggestion to Omar to contest Assembly polls, Omar has been caught in a Catch-22 situation.

"If he (Omar) agrees to contest polls, it will be said he has compromised on his principles and if disagrees, it will amount to indiscipline by not obeying the party president's advice," they said.

'Lined up series of tests for Gaganyaan'

BUT senior scientists from ISRO and Defence Food Research Laboratory (DFRL) under DRDO, confirmed to The New Indian Express that they have been instructed by the government to launch the Gaganyaan-1 manned space mission before the General Elections in 2024. "There have been instructions from the (Union) government that although the Covid-19 pandemic forced delays in the project timeline, we have to try and complete the tests in 2023 so that the project is launched in 2024, before the Lok Sabha elections," a senior scientist said.

This was on the sidelines of a national conference on futuristic strategies for sustenance of troops in different terrains organised by the DFRL-DRDO in Mysuru on Wednesday. DFRL will be supplying the food for the crew of Gaganyaan-1 during the mission. Dr R Umamaheswaran, Director, Human Space Flight Centre (HSFC) of ISRO, who took part as the guest of honour in the conference, said, "We have started work with all capabilities to make it a reality. We have lined up a series of tests for the Gaganyaan mission, including air drop tests scheduled next year," he said.

Five days after C'garh tribal quota bill being passed, guv yet to give assent

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

ALL eyes are on the Chhattisgarh Governor Anusuiya Uike, who is yet to give an assent on the reservation bill that was unanimously passed in the Assembly last Friday, leading to the ruling Congress party expressing concern over the delay.

Five state cabinet ministers handed over the bill to the governor the same day following which she assured them to take a decision after the Raj Bhawan secures the opinion of the legal experts.

According to the sources in the Raj Bhawan, the governor had summoned the secretary of the general administration department Kamalpreet Singh and held discussion while expressing her views over 'what if the enactment of the bill gets challenged in the court and how the state government is prepared to face it'.

"When our cabinet colleagues met the governor on Friday last, she told us that the law officer was on leave and so will give her assent the following Monday. We are really concerned over the delay merely on the grounds of seeking the legal opinion", said Ravindra Choubey, cabinet minister and the state government spokesperson.

'What if enactment of bill gets challenged in the court'

According to the sources in the Raj Bhawan, the governor had summoned the secretary of the general administration department Kamalpreet Singh and held discussion while expressing her views over 'what if the enactment of the bill gets challenged in the court and how the state government is prepared to face it'

The state assembly last Friday had unanimously passed adopting voice-vote the Chhattisgarh Public Service (Scheduled Caste, Scheduled Tribes and Other Backward Classes Reservation) Amendment bill taking the quota in the state to a whopping 76 per cent with the tribal reservation raised to 32 per cent. In the amendment bill, the proposed quota for Scheduled Caste is13 per cent, Other Backward Classes (OBCs) 27 per cent and Economically Weaker Sections (EWS) will get 4 per cent reservations. The opposition BJP stated that the governor will take decision keeping in perspective every aspect of the legal provisions. "Constitution, rules and regulations are not the prerogative of the Congress party," the party said.

The governor acts as the constitutional head in the state and will accordingly take appropriate decision", said Brijmohan Agrawal, senior BJP MLA and spokesperson.

MP: Trapped by fencing tree, tiger hangs to death

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

IN a horrifying incident, a male tiger aged around two years was found hanging to death through a tree in Panna district of 'Tiger State' Madhya Pradesh on Wednesday.

While the state forest and wildlife authorities have started a probe into the tiger's killing, noted wildlife activist Ajay Dubey described it as the first incident of a tiger being hanged to death through the animal trap anywhere in the country in the last two to three decades.

He has also demanded a CBI probe into the entire incident as Panna and adjoining areas have long been notorious for organized poaching, owing to which Panna Tiger Reserve (PTR) had gone tiger-less in 2008-09.

According to Sanjiv Jha, forest conservator (Chhatapur) the death of the tiger was reported to us late on Tuesday night, but early morning when the team reached the spot, a noose was found on the tiger. The incident happened in the jungles near Vikrampur village of Tilgaon forest beat of North Panna Forest Division, which is just outside the protected area.

REPRESENTATIVE PHOTO

This is horrific. I have never even heard of a tiger weighing around 200-250 kg being hanged to death through a trap in my career of 20-22 years —Ajay Dubey, wildlife activist

"The sniffer dogs from adjoining Satna as well as the Panna National Park are already in action on ground, while a team of state forest department's Tiger Strike Force too has joined the on the spot investigations. While the autopsy findings alone will establish the real cause of the tiger's death, circumstantial details suggest that the tiger fell prey to the trap (clutch wire trap) put in place for other animals," Jha added.

"We're appealing to local residents to share with us any clinching information about the tiger's death, their name will be kept confidential. Clinching information by them will help us immensely in reaching the culprits. We're also trying to ascertain the dead tiger's identity by matching its carcass's picture with a database of tigers at Panna Tiger Reserve," Jha said.

While the State's Tiger Strike Force has already begun its investigations, wildlife activist Ajay Dubey, has demanded a CBI probe. "This is horrific. Never in my career of 20-22 years I have even heard of a tiger weighing around 200-250 kg being hanged to death through a trap. There have been incidents of tigers being killed through electric current flowing fencing and other ground traps, but have never seen or heard about tigers being hanged to death through traps anywhere in the country. How can such incidents happen, when the Panna Tiger Reserve is well equipped with technologies, like night vision cameras, drones and satellite collared tigers? It's quite possible that the tiger has fallen prey to a trap kept for some other animal, but only a specialized agency like CBI, which has expertise in probing narcotics and wildlife crimes, can handle a case of such magnitude."

As per the figures available with the National Tiger Conservation Authority MP lost 42 tigers in 2021, while the tiger mortality count till date (including the tiger found hanging to death in Panna district on Wednesday morning) in the year 2022 stands at 32.

Proposed U'khand hospital for tigers and leopards still remains on paper

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

A hospital was supposed to be established in 2017 to treat injured and ageing tigers, leopards, and other animals as a result of the history of human-wildlife conflict in Uttarakhand, but even five years later, the plan is still buried in the files because of division and factionalism among IFS officers.

An animal hospital for wildlife was to be set up in the proposed zoo park in Haldwani.

The central government had also released ₹18 crore for the hospital in 2017. Chief wildlife warden Sameer Sinha said, "The matter was reported to me during my visit to Haldwani only after I took over, we also held a meeting on it. The plan will be completed soon".

Sinha further said, "We are already working on two plans, a long-term and a short-term plan, till this project comes into existence. The state government has already prepared a long-term plan, but in the meantime awareness and 'quick response' are part of the short-term plans that are currently in process."

Human wildlife conflict is becoming a serious problem in Uttarakhand. The heavy machinery of the state forest department appears helpless in the face of this very serious problem. In the recently concluded assembly session, the Forest Minister Subodh Uniyal has also confirmed that wild animals have killed 161 people in the last three years, with the highest number of deaths due to leopard attacks.

Another reason was that this veterinary hospital was desperately needed to treat tigers and other animals in the western circle of the forest adjacent to the Corbett Tiger Reserve. According to sources, there was also a plan to increase the family of birds in this veterinary hospital, such as breeding centres of vultures and eagles.

According to a research paper, "Human Wildlife Conflict" by DS Meena, DP Bulani, M M Bisht and DS Pundir, 1,396 leopards have been killed in the state during the last 20 years till 2020. The cause of his death was believed to be poaching, accidents, burning by forest fires, road or rail accidents, being killed due to being a man-eater and conflict.

According to the wildlife institute's report, 648 leopards have died due to natural death. At least 65 were killed when they were declared man-eaters. While, 41 were killed by poachers, 212 due to unknown reasons and 152 were killed in accidents.

GERMANY BUSTS CELL PLOTTING TO OVERTHROW GOVT

25 far-right suspects preparing for armed attack on parliament to seize power arrested

BERLIN

GERMAN police staged nationwide raids on Wednesday and arrested 25 people suspected of belonging to a far-right "terror cell" plotting to overthrow the government and attack parliament.

Around 3,000 officers including elite anti-terror units took part in the early morning raids and searched more than 130 properties, in what German media described as one of the country's largest police actions ever against extremists.

The raids targeted alleged members of the "Citizens of the Reich" (Reichsbuerger) movement suspected of "having made concrete preparations to violently force their way into the German parliament with a small armed group" federal prosecutors said. Those arrested are accused of having formed "a terrorist group by the end of November 2021 at the latest, which had set itself the goal of overcoming the existing state order in Germany and replacing it with their own kind of state", they said. Two of the 25 arrests were made abroad, in Austria and Italy. The prosecutors in Karlsruhe said they had identified a further 27 people as suspected members or supporters of the terror network. "The accused are united by a deep rejection of state institutions and the free, democratic basic order of the Federal Republic of Germany," they said. The Reichsbuerger movement includes neo-Nazis, conspiracy theorists and gun enthusiasts who reject the legitimacy of the modern German republic.

Its followers generally believe in the continued existence of the pre-World War I German Reich, or empire, under a monarchy and several groups have declared their own states.

Long dismissed as malcontents and oddballs, the Reichsbuerger have become increasingly radicalised in recent years and are seen as a growing security threat. The investigation gave "a look into the abyss" of far-right terror from the movement, Interior Minister Nancy Faeser said in a statement. AFP

Bali attack bombmaker let out on parole

JAKARTA

ONE of the bombmakers in the Bali blasts that killed more than 200 people two decades ago was released on parole on Wednesday, an Indonesian official said, months after Jakarta reduced his 20-year prison sentence.

Umar Patek was a member of an Al Qaeda-affiliated group that detonated devices at a bar and nightclub on the Indonesian resort island in October 2002, killing 202 people including 88 Australians.

"Since today, Patek has his status changed to be under supervision of Surabaya penitentiary," Law and Human Rights Ministry spokesperson Rika Aprianti told AFP.

Umar Patek

Patek was found to have made the bombs used in the assault on Bali, a Hindu island popular with foreign tourists.

He was released from prison in the East Java city of Surabaya at 8 am Wednesday and was escorted by authorities as no one from his family came to pick him up. "He is obliged to follow the office's guidance and must not commit any violence to keep his parole," Aprianti said. Authorities believe the convicted extremist has "shown changes" after undergoing a deradicalisation programme, according to the official.

"Most importantly, he has pledged allegiance to the unitary state of the Republic of Indonesia," she said.

But experts have warned that releasing Patek and fellow Bali bomber Ali Imron could boost their notoriety upon release. Patek was captured in 2011 after nearly a decade on the run with a $1 million bounty on his head in Abbottabad, the same Pakistani town where Osama bin Laden was killed by US special forces.

The decision to free him early is likely to anger Canberra, which lost the most of any of the 21 countries whose nationals were killed. Australian Prime Minister Anthony Albanese in August said he had nothing but "contempt" and disgust for Patek's actions, saying his early release would only renew distress and trauma for the victims' grieving families.

Patek's release comes as a militant and convicted bomb-maker who was released from prison last year blew himself up on Wednesday at a police station in Java, killing an officer. The attacker entered the Astana Anyar police station with a motorcycle and detonated one of two bombs he was carrying. Agencies

Time names Zelenskyy its person of the year

New York: Time magazine named President Volodymyr Zelensky as well as "the spirit of Ukraine" as its 2022 person of the year on Wednesday, for the resistance the country has shown in the face of Russia's invasion. Calling Zelensky's decision to remain in Kyiv and rally his country amid the ongoing war "fateful," Time editor in chief Edward Felsenthal said this year's decision was "the most clear-cut in memory". Time first presented its Person of the Year award in 1927. Last year's honoree was Tesla and SpaceX chief Elon Musk.

Rate hike impact on home sales likely to be moderate

According to housing sales data of top 6-8 cities, the impact of the last four consecutive rate hikes early this year has been minimal

ARSHAD KHAN @New Delhi

LENDING rate hike by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) likely to have a moderate impact on housing sales.

The central bank on Wednesday increased the benchmark rate by 35 basis points (BPS) to 6.25%. The repo rate has now gone up 225 bps since May 2022 and this in turn has pushed housing loan rates to over 9%.

Most industry experts believe that as long as interest rates remain in single digit, the impact on sales would be moderate as demand from end-users remains strong. According to housing sales data of top 6-8 cities, the impact of the last four consecutive rate hikes early this year has been minimal.

"As long as interest rates remain in single digits (mainly within 9.5%) the impact on housing will at best be moderate. If they breach this point, we will see some real pressure on residential sales volumes in the months to come – especially in the affordable and lower mid-range housing segments," Anuj Puri, Chairman – ANAROCK Group.

Shishir Baijal, CMD, Knight Frank India, says since the rate hike cycle in May 2022, home loan products have become expensive by nearly 150 bps before Wednesday's hike. He added that this hike will further impact EMIs and reduce home affordability.

For loans linked to External Benchmark based Lending Rate (EBLR) there has been a 100% transmission of repo rate. Loan products linked to MCLR rates are also up by around 108 bps between May and before the latest rate hike.

Ramani Shastri, chairman & MD of Sterling Developers, however, says that the rate hike would be detrimental to the sector. "The real estate sector has started seeing gradual recovery across key property markets, driven primarily by end-users, however, the repeated rate hikes may impact the interest rate-sensitive sector," he added.

As per Adhil Shetty, CEO, Bankbazaar.com, the best way to reduce interest burden is to prepay loan through annual bonus or other source of income. He says, "If you pay 5% of the loan balance every year, you can pay off your 20-year loan in 12 years. Prepaying one additional EMI every year can close your loan in just 17 years, and if you increase your EMI by 5% every year, you can finish your loan in less than 13 years. A 10% increase in your EMI every year can close your loan in about ten years."

How to reduce EMI burden as home loans get dearer

According to Adhil Shetty, chief executive officer of Bankbazaar.com, the best way to reduce interest burden is to prepay loan through annual bonus or other source of income. Shetty says, "If you pay 5% of the loan balance every year, you can pay off your 20-year loan in 12 years. Prepaying one additional Equated Monthly Instalment (EMI) every year can close your loan in just 17 years, and if you increase your EMI by 5% every year, you can finish your loan in less than 13 years. A 10% increase in your EMI every year can close your loan in about 10 years."

No intermediation of bank in CBDC: RBI

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

THE Reserve Bank of India (RBI), which launched the pilot for retail digital Rupee (e-R) on December 1, on Wednesday, clarified that there is no intermediation of bank in the Central Bank Digital Currency (CBDC) unlike UPI, and that there is no difference in the treatment between paper currency and digital currency.

Speaking to media, at the post-policy meet, RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das said, "Any UPI transaction involves the intermediation of banks..here(in digital rupee), you will draw the digital currency and keep it in your wallet which will be basically your mobile phone and when you go and make a payment in a shop or to another individual, it will move from your wallet to his wallet. There is no routing or there is no intermediation of the bank."

In case of digital rupee transactions, it goes from one's mobile phone to somebody else's mobile. "So why should we create this kind of fear psychosis? There is a law of the land and these are early days, the pilot on retail has just started," Das said, as he was addressing on privacy concerns with regard to digital rupee.

Deputy governor T Rabi Sankar said the base system would be set up and then the private sector can innovate.

Das also said that the amendment in the RBI act with regard to the CBDC says currency will also include digital currency.

"There is no difference in the eyes of the law between paper currency and digital currency." With regard to the wholesale CBDC pilot, Das said it has been satisfactory.

The central bank said it will introduce single-block-and-multiple-debits (SBMD) functionality in the UPI. With this, customers can block funds in their accounts for specific purposes and the amount will be debited whenever needed.

Currently, there is only SBMD transactions functionality in UPI. "SBMD allows users and merchants to decide on a certain limit to which a credit card may be authorised, making it convenient for customers and giving confidence to merchants," said Krishnan Vishwanathan, founder and ED, RING. Das also said the scope of Bharat Bill Payment System (BBPS) is being enhanced to include all categories of payments and collections, both recurring and non-recurring, and for all categories of billers (businesses and individuals).

Market falls as RBI increases repo rate, cuts GDP growth forecast

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

EVEN as the Dalal Street had factored in that the RBI would go for a 35 bps repo rate hike, the equity market closed the Wednesday session in red with the BSE Sensex falling for the fourth straight session and the NSE Nifty giving up its 18,600 level.

The fall comes as RBI hinted that it would keep fighting high inflation rate and lowered its FY23 GDP growth forecast from 7% to 6.8%. The top bank has now raised repo rate to 6.25%. The two benchmarks have now corrected about 1.50% over the last 5 sessions amid widespread profit booking at record high level. Sensex on Wednesday fell 215.68 points or 0.34% to end at 62,410.68 while the broader Nifty closed at 18,560.50, lower by 82.25 points or 0.44%.

"As the economy deals with the global headwinds, the RBI has become more realistic, lowering FY23 GDP growth forecast from 7% to 6.8%. The focus remains on fighting inflation, which will lead to rise in rates in future. Along with a global slowdown, corporate earnings forecast for H2FY23 and FY24 can downgrade. The market is currently trading at premium valuations, a slowing earnings growth will impact market sentiment," said Vinod Nair, head of research, Geojit Financial.

Investors at large dumped realty and automobile stocks as they fear higher EMIs may dent demand going ahead. Tata Motors, Bajaj Auto, Hero MotoCorp, DLF and Godrej Properties fell between 1.5-2.5% on Wednesday. Index heavyweight Reliance Industries also shed 1.61%. Shrikant Chouhan, head of equity research (Retail), Kotak Securities, said the downside in markets comes due to their premium valuation, while investors turned cautious as RBI's fight for taming multi-year high inflation is not over as they continued on their stance. Also, weak global cues further added to their woes.

While the equity market plunged, the rupee and bond market witnessed an uptick. At the interbank forex market, the Indian rupee ended its three-day losing streak to end slightly higher at 82.47 against the dollar compared to the previous day's print of 82.6150.

'Peak power demand to go up by 35K MW in April 2023'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

Power minister R K Singh on Wednesday said the single-day peak demand for power is expected to increase by up to 35,000 MW in April 2023.

The minister on the sidelines of the launch of 'Plan on Transmission System for integration of 500-MW non-fossil Fuel Capacity by 2030' also said the government has started preparations to fulfill the demand.

"Today, on a daily basis the demand is 20,000-25,000 MW more over the corresponding day last year...The meeting is about what will be the demand in April and how prepared we are to meet that," he said.

Meanwhile, the ministry chalked out a plan for evacuation of power from the planned 500GW renewable capacity by 2030. Currently, the installed capacity in the country is 409 GW comprising 173 GW from non-fossil fuel sources, which is about 42% of the total installed electricity generating capacity. "For evacuation of power from the planned renewable capacity by 2030, a robust transmission system needs to be in place in advance as the gestation period of wind and solar-based generation projects is much less than that of associated transmission system," reads the press note. The government will form a panel, which will prepare a detailed plan in consultation with states and other stakeholders.

Edtech unicorn Vedantu fires 385; founders to take 50% pay cut

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

EDTECH unicorn Vedantu has laid off 385 employees across HR and content, among other verticals. According to sources, this move is to reduce excess burn and to prioritise profitability.

So far, Tiger Global-backed edtech company has laid off 1,000 employees in 2022 alone. Sources confirmed that over 1,000 employees have been sacked, and also, the leadership team including founders will take a 50% pay cut.

Over 600 employees were laid off in May and in August about 100 employees were asked to leave the edtech unicorn.

Two months ago, Vedantu acquired a majority stake in test preparation platform Deeksha for about $40 million, and with this acquisition, the company has been aiming to expand its hybrid model. After this acquisition, Vedantu had to cut down other expenditures, sources added. In May, the company officially confirmed it fired 7% of its workforce or about 424 employees as it is expecting fund shortage in coming quarters.

Its co-founder and CEO Vamsi Krishna had told employees that currently, the external environment is tough. "War in Europe, impending recession fears, and Fed rate interest hikes have led to inflationary pressures with massive correction in stocks globally and in India as well. Given this environment, capital will be scarce for upcoming quarters," he said.

The start-up had raised $100 million in September 2021, and it was valued at $1 billion.

Edtech firms have been sacking employees citing funds crunch.

After Byju's announced firing of 2,500 employees, edtech major Unacademy said it will fire 10% of its workforce, close to 350 employees, in November. In an email to employees, Unacademy CEO Gaurav Munjal had said that funding has significantly slowed down.

Oaktree could exit race for Reliance Capital

DIPAK MONDAL @New Delhi

THE e-auction for acquiring Reliance Capital will be a three horse race, as the fourth contender Oaktree is likely to exit from the race.

Oaktree, which has submitted a resolution plan of ₹4,200 crore for acquiring the erstwhile Anil Ambani group company, could withdraw from the auction as two of its demands are unlikely to be fulfilled by the lenders, sources in the know of development told this newspaper. Oaktree has asked for Reliance Capital's financial results till 31st December 2022 and a four week extension for conducting the auction process. Both the demands have been termed as 'impractical' by the lenders of Reliance Capital. The lenders in a meeting held on Tuesday rejected these demands of Oaktree. They now feel that Oaktree will not participate in the auction process to be held in the week starting 19 December.

The lenders argued that with the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) directing the committee of Creditors (CoC) to complete the resolution process of Reliance Capital by 31 January, there is no scope of an extension of the auction by a month. With Oaktree out of the race, Cosmea-Piramal consortium, Hinduja, and Torrent Group will participate in the e-auction.

Reliance Capital had received four binding bids on November 28, which was the last date for submitting the bids. The highest bid of Rs 5,231 crore has been submitted by a consortium of Cosmea Financial and Piramal. Hindujas with Rs 5,060 crore has emerged as the second highest bidder, followed by Torrent Investment (₹4,500 crore) and Oaktree (₹4,200 crore).

Within e-auction, lenders have two options, either to go for an ascending or descending auction. Sources told TNIE that foreign banks are pushing for the descending auction wherein the base price will be ₹17,000 crores. In case of the ascending auction process, the base price will be Rs 5300 crore - the highest bid value quoted by Cosmea and Piramal consortium.

Number of start-ups in 2022 go up to 84,102 from 452 in 2016

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE number of start-ups has increased to 84,102 till November, 2022, from 452 in 2016, Minister of State for Commerce and Industry Som Parkash said in a written reply to the parliament.

Sustained government efforts have led to this significant increase in number of start-ups, he said. Under the Startup India Initiative, which was launched in January 2016, entities are recognised by the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade (DPIIT) as start-ups as per eligibility conditions prescribed by the government. Maharashtra got the maximum number of start-ups in 2022 at 4,339 aggregating to 15,571 till now, followed by Delhi at 2,352 with Uttar Pradesh giving close competition at 2,334 in 2022.

The number of start-ups in the gaming and related sector rose to 1,330 in November from five in 2016.

The government had set up a task force on April 8 this year for the promotion of animation, visual effects, gaming and comics (AVGC) industry, Parkash said. The mandate of the task force includes facilitation of skilling initiatives, promotion and market development activities to extend global reach of the Indian AVGC industry, boosting job opportunities and incentives to attract foreign direct investment in the AVGC sector, he said.

Meanwhile, he said reforms have been undertaken by public sector banks (PSBs) under Enhanced Access and Service Excellence reforms agenda to improve ease of doing business. He added that the objective of amalgamation was to facilitate consolidation among PSBs to competitive banks capable of achieving economies of scale and to realise benefits of synergy and services offered to the consumers.

Telcos haven't faced any difficulties rolling out 5G services, says govt

RAKESH KUMAR @New Delhi

THE telecom service providers (TSPs) have not faced any difficulties rolling out 5G services in the country, said telecom minister Ashwini Vaishnaw in a written reply to Lok Sabha on Wednesday.

The minister also said the telcos so far have rolled out 5G services in 50 towns. "The roll-out of 5G network is in its initial phase. However, no feedback/complaints have been received/ reported by TSPs for any difficulties faced by 5G users wherever the 5G network is available," said the minister in his reply.

Vaishnaw noted that the Department of Telecom (DoT) has specified rollout obligations in the notice inviting application (NIA) for auction of access spectrum in terms of number of towns and number of sites to be covered over the next 5 years. To facilitate rollout of telecom network (including 5G) and expansion of telecommunication infrastructure, the government has taken various steps including making available sufficient spectrum for mobile services through auction, allowing spectrum sharing and trading, removal of additional spectrum usage charge (SUC) of 0.5% for spectrum sharing, allowing sharing of infrastructure by the telco and others. On the question of 5G services of state-owned telco Bharat Sanchar Nigam Limited (BSNL), the minister said the government has reserved 10 MHz of paired spectrum in 600 MHz band, 40 MHz in 3300 MHz band and 400 MHz in the 26 GHz band in all licence service areas. The telco has floated the tender in October 2022 for finalising its 4G and 5G network and it shortlisted Tata Consultancy Services (TCS) to offer the equipment for 5G NSA testing. The government infused ₹1.64 lakh crore to BSNL for its revival. The revival includes infusing fresh capital for upgrading BSNL services, allocating spectrum, de-stressing its balance sheet, augmenting its fibre network by merging Bharat Broadband Nigam Limited (BBNL) with BSNL and sovereign guarantees to BSNL/MTNL.

5G rollout network is in its initial phase. No complaints have been received by TSPs for any difficulties faced by 5G users wherever 5G is available

Arun Kumar Singh appointed as Chairman of ONGC for 3 years

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE government on Wednesday appointed Arun Kumar Singh, former Chairman of oil refining and marketing company BPCL, as Chairman and managing director of Oil and Natural Gas Corporation(ONGC).

This is the first time when any retired person assumes a role of head at any Maharatna PSU.

"The Appointments Committee of Cabinet (ACC) has approved the proposal of the Ministry of Petroleum and Natural Gas for appointment of Singh, ex-CMD og BPCL, as Chairman of ONGC for a three-year tenure with effect from the date of his assumption of charge of the post," an official order said.

Singh is a mechanical engineer from National Institute of Technology, Patna. He was Director (Marketing) of Bharat Petroleum Corporation Ltd (BPCL) from October 2018 to September 2021, after which he was elevated as chairman and managing director of the company. He retired as BPCL head 13 months later in October 2022.

"The restructuring of the Board of ONGC has been approved in the context of emerging trends in the energy sector and national energy priorities," the ministry said in a statement.

CRUDE FALLS BELOW $80 PER BARREL

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

Brent Crude Future on Wednesday fell below $80 per barrel, lowest since January 2022. The last time Brent Crude price traded below $80 per barrel was in early January, a month before the Russian invasion of Ukraine, which elevated the crude price to above $100 per barrel for months. The Brent Crude Future was trading at $79.97 per barrel on Wednesday (7.55 PM IST) and WTI Crude was trading at $74.61 per barrel. This week, the European Union (EU), G7 and Australia agreed on a price cap of $60 per barrel on Russian oil. The Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) and its allies decided to keep their oil production unchanged. However, there has been no change in the price of petrol and diesel in the domestic market.

Morocco have only conceded 1 goal, courtesy an own goal in the tourmanent | AP

Not many chinks in Moroccan armour

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Chennai

IN the third and final minute of extra-time — 123rd of an extraordinary match — a heroic Moroccan defense allowed Pablo Sarabia a shot on goal. Sarabia, who had come in for the express purpose of taking one of the five penalties for Spain, volleyed a thunderous drive from a very acute angle. It struck the post. A final chance had gone. It wasn't a clear cut chance but Spain, for all their passing, were finding chances as rare as water in a desert.

Not just Spain, though. It's been one of the main themes of the tournament: a stingy Moroccan defence that has repelled just about anything that has been thrown at them. Out of the 32 sides, they are one of only three sides yet to trail (England and Netherlands being the others). In fact, the opposition is yet to score past them. The one goal they conceded was an own goal. When former coach Vahid Halihodzic made way for Walid Regragui a few months before the World Cup, not a lot was expected. If anything, Regragui was ridiculed as he was called 'Avacado Head'. Yet, the 47-year-old has already scripted a mini-miracle. Apart from recalling Hakim Ziyech, Regragui has focussed on the defensive aspects. It's paid off. In the seven matches he has been in charge of since September, an opposition player is yet to score.

So why are they so difficult to score against? It's partly thanks to the shift put in by Achraf Hakimi (right-back) and Noussair Mazraoui (left-back). If a World Cup XI were to be compiled before the quarterfinals, these two would be the full-backs of the team. Teams have had no joy against these two as both of them have been terrific in one-on-one situations as well as tackles won.

Nobody has made more than the 17 tackles by Hakimi (won 11, joint top). At third is Mazraoui with 13 (won eight). Eighteen of the 19 tackles that the pair have have come in Morocco's third of the pitch. That's before you add the presence of midfield lynchpin Sofyan Amrabat who has been the perfect screen ahead of the defence. He has been the glue that has enabled the Moroccan defence to function properly.

They are also a very organised side whose flair players do not mind doing the dirty off the ball work that is vital to limit chances for the opposition. It may not be champagne football but it need not be champagne football in a tournament where the only currency is results.

Nowhere was this more evident than in their match against Spain who made over a 1000 passes. In the four matches, Spain had taken 4300. Morocco? 1994. Only 40 of those 1994 touches have come in the opposition box. Of the sides remaining in the tournament, Morocco have the lowest possession (33.8%), fewest touches (1994), fewest touches in the opposition penalty area (40) and most touches in their own penalty area (289).

They have also eschewed the modern football trait of playing it out from the back. The two Moroccan keepers, between them, have attempted 36 goal kicks. Possession sides like Germany (14), Argentina (15) and Spain (22) are in the opposite end of the spectrum. Out of the 32, the Morocco rank No. 5 in attempting the most long-range passes (40 yards) by a keeper. In short, it's a system that's geared towards minimising any risk in their own penalty box. It's almost like they are the 2004 Greece version but for the Tik Tok generation.

It shows. If you look at the post shot Expected Goals (PSxG) — a metric based on how likely the keeper is expected to save the shot — Morocco have the best numbers. Across the four games, it's 1.0, 0.3 above the next best side England. It's a metric that says whether the shots on goal attempted against the team are easier to save or harder to save. Most of the shots against Morocco have been relatively easy ones for the goalkeeper to save because of its position on the pitch. Like the one Sarabia attempted on Tuesday night. Yassine Bounou didn't save it but he didn't have to. Because it was from such an acute angle, it was off target.

Scoring a goal is all about getting the margins and the angles right. Right now, Morocco are winning both the margins as well as the angles. Not by chance but by design. If Portugal want to advance to a first semi-final in 16 years, their task is to find those margins.

He (Memphis Depay) is an extraordinary player and so I have set aside my principles... I consider him to be incredibly important to my team. — Netherlands coach Louis van Gaal

INSTANT REPLAY

Here's a quick look at the Round of 16 ties which witnessed plenty of drama and some eye-catching displays.

ORANJE DELIGHT

Netherlands' Denzel Dumfries kicked off the knockout proceedings with a night to remember against the USA. After setting up two goals with inch-perfect passes from the right, Dumfries put the icing on the cake with a neat finish to seal the deal for the Oranje.

MESSI MAGIC

Argentina had Australia pinned back but the latter were resolute and growing in confidence as an uninspiring first half wore on. Argentina badly needed something special and in Lionel Messi they got it 10 minutes from the break. After a neat finish with his favoured left foot, Messi lifted the mood to help Argentina through.

BIG BOYS FLEX MUSCLES

France, England and Brazil stamped their authority to win in style. Kylian Mbappe was unstoppable for the defending champs while England played like a well-oiled unit to dispatch Senegal. Brazil arguably put up the best show of the ongoing edition by dismantling helpless South Korea. The return of Neymar, who got on the scoresheet, was a huge boost for the five-time champs.

BEGINNER'S LUCK FOR RAMOS

Massive call to bench Ronaldo & play 1st-time starter pays off for Portugal vs Switzerland

AP @Lusail

IN his first start for Portugal's national team, Goncalo Ramos showed that he has the goods — and the goals — to stand in for Cristiano Ronaldo.

Even at the World Cup.

The 21-year-old forward scored a hat-trick on Tuesday after surprisingly being called on to start against Switzerland in place of Ronaldo, the men's record holder for most international goals. Portugal won the match 6-1 and advanced to the quarterfinals for the third time.

"Not even in my wildest dreams did I think about being part of the starting team for the knockout stage," Ramos said through a translator after being named player of the match. Those three goals, and the smoking pistols goal celebration, instantly made Ramos one of the sport's hottest prospects.

Morocco, who will next play Portugal on Saturday for a spot in the semifinals, may not have known anything about Ramos before Tuesday. That has certainly changed.

Ramos had never played for Portugal before being selected in the World Cup squad last month. He was given the No. 26 shirt in the 26-man squad and played for only a few minutes as a late substitute in Portugal's group wins over Ghana and Uruguay. He had zero attempts on goal in those games.

"Most people in the world had never heard about him until today," Portugal midfielder Bruno Fernandes said.

The first hint that Ronaldo's place might be at risk came Monday. Portugal coach Fernando Santos vented his frustration with his long-time star's body language after being replaced in a 2-1 loss to South Korea on Friday.

Sure enough, 80 minutes before the start of the match at Lusail Stadium, Ronaldo's name was missing from the starting lineup. Ramos was his replacement. The final result made Santos look more like a mad genius than a madman.

Ramos scored early, giving his team the lead in the 17th minute. Passes then started flowing, attacks came in waves and consumed the Swiss opposition, leaving them seemingly unable to track the speed and mobility of playmakers like Fernandes, Joao Felix and Bernardo Silva.

Ramos was at the centre of it all. "Goncalo is more dynamic," Santos said through a translator. "Cristiano currently is a player who is more fixed and plays in a more determined area."

Ramos linked easily with a group of teammates he has barely played with, ghosting in at the near post to poke the ball in from close range for his second goal, and the team's third, soon after halftime.

He created the fourth goal with a pass to Raphael Guerreiro and then completed his hat-trick with a deft flick over onrushing Switzerland goalkeeper Yann Sommer in the 67th minute. Seven minutes later, Ronaldo came off the bench and replaced Ramos on the field. They next met in the centre circle after the final whistle, the established star hugging his potential successor. Ramos was holding the match ball, the usual gift for a player who scores three goals.

The first hat-trick at this year's World Cup was only the fifth in the past three tournaments. One of those came from Ronaldo four years ago, when he was 33, in a 3-3 group-stage draw with Spain.

When Ramos returns to play for Benfica in the Portuguese league, he will no longer be under anybody's radar.

Yet clues were there when the young forward stepped up a level this season to replace Darwin Nunez, now at Liverpool after another big-money sale by the Lisbon club. Led by goals from Ramos, Benfica are unbeaten both in Portugal and in the Champions League.

Croatia, Serbia fined for Balkan statement

DOHA: The Croatian and Serbian soccer federations were fined by FIFA on Wednesday for making Balkan political statements at the World Cup. FIFA fined the Croatians 50,000 Swiss francs ($53,000) after the team's fans verbally abused and taunted Canada goalkeeper Milan Borjan, who has Serbian family ties. The Serbian soccer federation was fined 20,000 Swiss francs ($21,300) for a political banner about neighboring Kosovo.

German football facing day of vital decisions

BERLIN: German soccer faces a day of decisions amid questions over the futures of both national team coach Hansi Flick and league chief executive Donata Hopfen. The German soccer federation was meeting Wednesday to discuss the fallout from Germany's early World Cup exit (Germany exited after finishing third in Group E) and simmering issues of discontent among Bundesliga clubs and teams from the second division.

Belgium star Hazard quits international football

DOHA: Belgium star Eden Hazard announced his retirement from international football, days after the team crashed out of the World Cup. The Real Madrid forward, 31, made the announcement on social media, saying "a page turns today". "Thank you for your unparalleled support," he posted on Instagram. "Thank you for all this happiness shared since 2008. I have decided to put an end to my international career. The succession is ready. I will miss you."

SPAIN, JAPAN PAY PENALTY

It was a heartbreak for Japan and Spain, who lost their respective ties in penalty shootouts. Japan showed a lot of spirit against Croatia, but the latter showed their experience to stay in the game and keep their calm during shootouts. 2010 champs Spain huffed and puffed but could not blow Morocco's sturdy house down, falling 3-0 on penalties after 120 goalless minutes. Needless to say, this is a huge setback for Luis Enrique's men, who had begun their WC campaign with a 7-0 win over Costa Rica. In the meantime, Morocco became the first Arab nation to reach quarterfinals of a World Cup.

PORTUGAL'S HAPPY SURPRISE

Ronaldo has been a talking point for a while now. On Tuesday, he started on the bench for Portugal and young striker Goncalo Ramos started in his place. That big change turned out to be a masterclass as Ramos scored a stunning hat-trick to help the team post a big win over Switzerland.

Football, a source for national pride and identity in Croatia

VISHNU PRASAD

THE only significance June 13, 2014 holds for world football is that the 2014 FIFA World Cup began that day in Brazil. For a number of Croatian footballers though, it features the start of a journey that will come full circle when Croatia face Brazil on Friday.

When Brazil kicked off a home World Cup with a routine 3-1 win against Croatia that day, the latter were but an afterthought. Yet looking back, it was the initiation of a number of members from Croatia's second golden generation to World Cup football. Starting that day was Luka Modric, who had made the squad when Croatia last qualified for the World Cup in 2006, but had not started a game. Also in the starters' list were Ivan Perisic. who scored their only goal against Japan on Monday, Dejan Lovren and Mateo Kovacic. Another starter from Monday — Marcelo Brozovic — was on the bench while Domagoj Vida was an unused substitute in both matches.

With the exception of Kovacic — somehow, still only 28 — every other name from that list will be playing the World Cup for the last time. And the journey in between, when they took Croatia from group stage also-rans to a serious threat to any team in the tournament, has been memorable.

The highlight, of course, will always be that improbable run to the final of the 2018 edition, when they wore down opponents by taking every knockout game they played beyond regulation time. After two penalty shootout victories and an extra time winner over England, they fell in the final to an imperious France. Their penalty shootout victory against Japan — one of the fittest teams of this tournament — showed that their reputation for wearing down opponents over two hours is still intact. Brazil would do well to be weary.

Regardless of when their World Cup journey ends, this generation will have redefined what football means to Croatia. Football has always been part of the nation's psyche — the popular legend goes that the Yugoslav wars that birthed the modern Croatian state started with a particularly violent and riot-filled match between the Croatian club Dinamo Zagreb and the Serbian Red Star Belgrade. Then, in 1998, the newly-formed nation, still finding its place in the world, celebrated with pride as the Croatian side led by Zvonimir Boban and Davor Suker reached the semifinals of the World Cup in France.

Luka Modric has been a cornerstone for the national side | AP

That 1998 side is the only competition that this generation faces in the debate over their place in history. "In terms of achievements, both the semi-final in 1998 and the final in 2018 were more than unexpected," says Dario Brentin, a researcher in sports and politics in the Balkans. "And both were celebrated equally in Croatia. Arguably, Croatia was politically in a much more difficult political situation compared to 2018 and hence that semi-final had additional political weight. On the other hand, a final is a final, so one could say simply by the fact of taking one step further that the 2018 generation usurped the 1998 generation in the overall hierarchy of Croatian sporting successes."

One thing is unquestionable though. The current crop has influenced the notion of Croatian national identity every bit as much as that 1998 side.

"Unquestionably both events influenced Croatian national identity and have become central in the way Croatians talk about themselves and their country," says Brentin. "It has become one of the sacred centres of society and whilst the generation of 1998 might have been instrumental in the establishment of that narrative, the generation of 2018 has made sure that this narrative will remain of significance for the foreseeable future."

Of course, this debate could very well be set to rest by the time Qatar bids goodbye to the World Cup. All the Croatians need to do is extra-time their way to three more victories.

Journeyman Noppert relishing Dutch dream

AFP @Lusail

TWO years ago, Dutch goalkeeper Andries Noppert's career was going nowhere and he thought about quitting football. Now he is preparing to face Lionel Messi and Argentina in a World Cup quarterfinal.

Noppert was a back-up in the Dutch second division with only a handful of professional appearances under his belt as recently as 2020, and considered quitting to join the police.

He decided to stick with it and his career took off after joining Go Ahead Eagles, before a subsequent move to Heerenveen caught the eye of Netherlands coach Louis van Gaal.

Now the 28-year-old is first choice for the Dutch at the World Cup in Qatar, having only made his international debut in their tournament opener against Senegal. He will go up against Argentina in Friday's quarterfinal and he is unfazed at the prospect of facing Messi from the penalty spot.

"It depends on the moment — he can also miss and we've seen it in games in this tournament," Noppert said on Wednesday.

"He is the same as us, he is human. For sure he is good, but for sure I can catch penalties."

Noppert has played all of the Netherlands' games so far in Qatar, conceding only two goals on their way to the quarter-finals. The tallest player in the tournament at 6 feet 8 inches (203 cm), he has won praise for his shot-stopping ability and command of his penalty area. But his inclusion in the team still causes him to smile in amazement, having come so far in such a short time. "When you are a small guy, I think you dream about going to the World Cup," he said.

DAY'S DIARY

Fire breakout

On this day in 2019, in one of the worst incidents of fire in Delhi, 43 people were killed after after a fire breakout in an illegal bag factory

THE INCIDENT

The fire broke out minutes past 5 am local time when about a 100 people, mostly workers of a bag-making factory operating in the building, were sleeping inside

WORKERS OF THE FACTORY

Many of the injured men were migrant workers from the border state of Bihar in eastern India. They earned as little as 150 rupees per day

RESCUE OPERATIONS

Nearly 150 fire personnel carried out the rescue operation and rescued at least 63 people from the burning building

HUMOUR IN THE HOUSE

Actor in Sridevi-starrer English-Vinglish, director of Kannada film 3Devi ...Ahead of returning to stage after a hiatus of five years for a play-cum-stand-up show, Ashvin Mathew speaks with CE

DESE GOWDA

Socially and emotionally embarrassing issues, health matters that men often avoid talking about...All of these and more will be brought alive in Gentlemen, a theatrical play comprising a series of comedy sketches. This also marks the comeback of actor-comedian Ashvin Mathew after a hiatus of five years.

Written by dermatologist Dr Anil Abraham, Gentlemen has had many runs over the years. This time around, the play features the usual trio of actor Ajith Hande, Abraham himself and Mathew, while comedian-actor Shraddha Jain (popularly known as Aiyyo Shraddha) joins the crew for the first time. "My character was originally written as a person from Andhra Pradesh. When I tried to do it with a Malayali accent, everyone was keeling over with laughter. So, Anil [Abraham] decided to keep the accent and just rewrote the script with Malayali specific jokes," shares Mathew.

Ashvin Mathew in English-Vinglish

While Mathew garnered wider recognition for his role as Father Vincent in the Sridevi-starrer English Vinglish, he was a well-regarded comic in the city way before that, having held his first public show in the city in 2005. Mathew got his start in comedy quite accidently, while studying in Sydney, Australia. "I was selling roof insulations part-time and my boss used to DJ on the weekends. This one time he got so drunk that halfway through the gig, he looked at me and said, 'Take over Ash' and then keeled over," he shares. "I just made an announcement saying, 'As part of the show, we're doing a comedy sketch' and the audience stared at me for the longest time. I then started to crack progressively racist jokes, which finally got them laughing. That was the first time I ever tried stand-up on stage."

The comedian-turned-actor has donned many hats over the years, including turning director for Kannada film, 3Devi. However, he objects to the label comedian-turned-actor, saying that he was an actor first, who happened to try his hand at stand-up comedy. Nevertheless, he feels that his comic roots certainly helped him in other ventures. "I always wanted to direct and write. It was only a matter of whether I was ready. I guess comedy remains the common factor among everything I do. As a comedian, you are always absorbing new things, sort of like a sponge. That helps you as a director and a screenwriter," he shares.

FIT BIT

MERUDANDA MUDRA
(BACK PAIN GESTURE)

Categorised as an hasta (hand) mudra, this is one of three similar mudras that comprise this mudra sequence. The others are: Adho Merudanda Mudra (thumbs pointing toward each other) and Urdhva Merudanda Mudra (thumbs pointing away).

STEPS

- Sit in Sukhasana or Vajrasana, eyes closed.
- Place your hands on your thighs, palms down.
- Curl your fingers towards the palms, form a fist.
- Keep the thumbs extended towards each other (Adho Merudanda Mudra).
- You may now shift your focus towards the slow deep breaths and hold the mudra for 8-10 breaths.
- Then, roll your hands on your thighs so that the thumb is pointed towards the sky (Merudanda Mudra).
- Again, stay in such a position for 8-10 breaths.
- Move your hands so that the thumbs are pointed outwards in opposite directions (Urdhva Merudanda Mudra).
- Take eight slow breaths holding Urdhva Merudanda Mudra.
- Practise at any time of the day.
- Breathing practice must be 4:2:5:2, which means 4 seconds of inhalation, followed by 2 seconds halt, then 5 seconds of exhalation, and another 2 seconds of holding.

BENEFITS

- It helps in the detoxification process.
- Combined with pranayama, it expands lungs, purifies the blood.
- Improves the circulatory and respiratory systems.
- Stimulates the stomach viscera and improves the efficiency of the kidney and liver.
- Eliminates restlessness and helps in enhancing awareness.
- Deep breathing practice along with this Mudra strengthens the spine and activates the Ida, Pingla, and Sushumna Nadis.
- This set of hand gestures are utilised in Sacred Spiral for ornamental breath-work.
- Boosts the gastric fire.
- Inspires the performance of abdominal viscera, liver, kidney, dyspepsia plus gastritis.
- Heals piles, prostate, nerves, bladder, diabetes.
- Can help revitalise back pain.

LIMITATIONS

Those with heart disease, high blood pressure, avoid this. Practise on an empty stomach. Make sure that the spine is kept erect throughout the practice. Discontinue If you feel any discomfort or pain.

PAIN IN THE BACK

DR AMRITHLAL A MASCARENHAS

SPINAL cord injuries are quite common, especially among the elderly population owing to their age and other factors. Irrespective of age, spine surgery can be helpful to live a better quality of life. But not many aged people are ready to opt for spinal surgery when recommended. Many have a misbelief that undergoing spine surgery will lead to a wheelchair-bound life. Although spinal surgery is major surgery considering the spine bears majority of the body's weight, evidence suggests that nearly 95 per cent of all spinal surgeries are successful. The majority of elderly people who have undergone spine surgery have seen improved mobility and pain relief.

> To strengthen the spine and correct spinal cord injury, surgery may involve placing screws and rods

How do doctors approach spine surgeries in the elderly?

■ The type of surgery performed during spine surgery depends on the specific condition, the location of the problem, and the patient's overall health. It also depends on the patient's mental state. A pre-procedure discussion and planning are followed before the surgery.

The spine is weaker in older people, so stabilising the spine becomes more important. To strengthen the spine and correct the issue, surgery may involve placing screws and rods. Laminectomy is the most common type of surgery that releases pressure from the spinal cord or nerves by removing a portion of the vertebral bone. Other surgical procedures include discectomy, vertebroplasty, and spinal fusion.

Successful spine surgery is always dependent on quality care by a multidisciplinary team, ICU care, and management technology. As technology in healthcare advances, surgeons are increasingly using minimally invasive procedures like endoscopic spine surgery. Real-time spinal cord monitoring can help correct any problem that may arise during surgery. So, patients who have additional comorbid conditions can be treated more quickly and under better observation.

What are the challenges in spine surgeries in the elderly?

■ Performing spine surgery in elderly patients presents many difficulties. They may have pre-existing illnesses like diabetes, hypertension, certain cancers, low immunity, and osteoporosis, among others. Because of these conditions which can complicate surgery, they are at a higher risk of infections, bleeding, and blood clots. This explains why they hesitate to choose surgery in most cases. Furthermore, older people require more rehabilitation after surgery and have a longer recovery time. Despite these obstacles, elderly spine surgery can be extremely successful with adequate preparation.

Can we prevent spine problems?

■ Early adulthood is the time to start managing spinal issues by leading a healthy lifestyle. However, older people can also develop healthy habits like eating a balanced diet and staying active by walking as much as they can.

Since falls are the most common injury in older people, they can result in serious injuries like hip fractures. Keeping their homes safe is the first step to prevent falls – install grab bars in the bathroom and remove trip hazards like throw rugs and electrical cords. In addition, regular exercise is recommended to strengthen and improve their balance.

1 I have heard that sleeping well helps in losing weight. How true is it?

Sleeping doesn't help lose weight per se. It helps keep your mouth zipped from unwanted calories. If you are awake past bedtime, you will be engaged in some activities and dinner would have been digested so you tend to get hungry and look out for some small bites and gain weight. What helps in losing weight is calorie deficit and calorie expenditure via exercise and movement. We do burn around 50 calories an hour while we sleep, but these numbers vary from person to person.

2 Does the weather play any role in burning fat?

You shouldn't yield to temptation as this weather makes you crave hot and spicy foods like samosa, pakora, bhaji, chaats etc. So watch out for those unwanted calories. The cold weather doesn't translate to sustained weight loss. The shiver-induced hormone boost does burn extra calories to keep the body warm but it won't leave the same long-lasting effects on metabolism as regular trips to the gym.

3 There is a lot of news about people having cardiac arrests while in the gym. Is it a possible side effect of working out?

No way, not at all. I am not sure if this can be due to a combination of vaccination, intense workouts and supplements. I would discourage heavy-duty workouts and supplements like fat burners, steroids, etc. Instead, aim for general fitness and a clean diet.

Ageing in eye can predict kidney failure risk, finds study

Every one-year increase in retinal age has now been linked with a 10 per cent higher risk of incident kidney failure over 11 years of follow-up, a UK study involving 35,864 residents has revealed. The one-year increase in retinal age was assessed by retinal microvasculature changes, according to the study published in the Peer-reviewed American Journal of Kidney Diseases (AJKD). "There is a pressing need to identify early predictive biomarkers of kidney failure, given its associated substantial morbidity and mortality. Ageing biomarkers have been associated with kidney failure but their clinical application has been challenging," the researchers reported. The incidence of end stage kidney disease (ESKD) is known to increase with age. –IANS

'VIJAYANAND IS DEDICATED TO ALL KANNADIGAS'

Director Rishika Sharma along with Anand Sankeshwar, share their thoughts about the upcoming biopic on the legendary businessman, Vijay Sankeshwar

A SHARADHAA

RISHIKA Sharma belongs to a family of film personalities, and being the grand niece of legendary filmmaker GV Iyer, she naturally grew up with a fondness for the world of cinema, and she realised it when she was in her third standard. "Though direction was always in my mind, what goes in between 'action and cut' was learnt by me much later when I started working as assistant director. I studied psychology and journalism and worked as a web journalist. Having juggled various aspects of filmmaking for 3 years, which included acting, I realised that I took up direction seriously, and that paved way for my debut Trunk (2018)," says director Rishika Sharma, who is reaching a wider Pan India audience with her sophomore film Vijayanand, a biopic that traces the life of the legendary businessman, Vijay Sankeshwar, which is slated to release on December 9.

Rishika believes that film as a medium should always add value in some form and adds that it was challenging to handle a biopic of a famous personality, who is an inspiration across the world. "It was actor Nihal, who brought me this project, and I took 3 months to do research. I went through articles, and episodes in his life to come up with a showreel to be presented to Vijay Sankeshwar. After much conviction, Vijay Sir gave us 5 days of his time and narrated his life, right from his father to date. He also involved his family and friends, who gave us ample input. Finally, we had 150 hours of interviews, which ultimately was utilised for the two-and-a-half-hour film."

She states that Vijayanand wouldn't have been possible without the support of the legend Vijay Sankeshwar, and his son, Anand Sankeshwar. "The proverb 'Behind every successful man, there is a woman' holds good for me, but actually worked in the reverse for me. I had the blessings of males right from my grandfather, my father, and a few directors, who supported me. Their warmth, protection and encouragement made me pull off this big project."

Rishika says that scale and manpower are the backbones of any film. "Even though it is a biopic, we have added commercial aspects to it and didn't compromise on the budget. We had 5000 to 6000 junior artists, who were part of the film, and interestingly all were from North Karnataka. Even I managed to rope in the best technical team Keerthan Poojary , and Hemanth Kumar (editor), who added value to the film. The major plus of Vijayanand is Gopi Sundar's music. All of them travelled with me with a single vision for 2 years," she says.

Anand Sankeshwar, who is marking his maiden production venture with Vijayanand says, "This is a film dedicated to all Kannadigas. It portrays the struggles of an entrepreneur, his grittiness and his determination to rise over adversities. I am sure this offering would be loved by everyone. I call upon our youth to awaken their entrepreneurial streak within, dream, and achieve! Yes, it is possible!"

Pramod

'I BELIEVE THAT NATURE SUPPORTS GOOD WORK'

CE FEATURES

WHILE Pramod might just be five films old, he is one of those actors who always had a passion for acting. "Drama, acting, and dance choreography were something I enjoyed since my school days, and even used to pen some stories and staged plays. Having done a BSC in Biotech, my passion to become an actor was always firm. I enrolled myself in the Benaka theatre group and later joined the small screen, where I starred in almost 16 daily soaps. My transition to the big screen happened with Geetha Bangle Stores. While the film might not have done extremely well, my performance did get noticed. Later, I got to star in Premier Padmini, and then Mathe Udbhava happened," says Pramod.

It was Rohit Padaki's Rathnan Prapancha, starring Dhananjay, which gave Pramod his big break. "The success of that film gave me a lot of opportunities, including Bond Ravi, and of course, Prashanth Neel's Salaar, which will feature me in a pivotal role.

With Bond Ravi gearing up for a December 9 release, Pramod stresses that the film is a content-based commercial cinema, which explores a never-told-before love story, at least not heard in recent times. "Even the character of a jailbird played by me is unique. The elements of emotions, action, love, and drama, make Bond Ravi, a complete entertainer, and close to reality," says Pramod.

Apart from Bond Ravi, Pramod also has English Manja, which is ready for release, and the multistarrer Bhuvanam Gaganam. Talking about Salaar, which stars Prabhas in the lead, Pramod calls it 'his biggest opportunity.'"I've always believed that goodness and hard work will surely pay off at some point. However, I understood the importance of surviving in the industry and thought learning other gimmicks was imperative to stay in cinema. But with Rathnan Prapancha, I went back to my first belief, and I continue to believe that nature supports good work. The character I played in Rathnan Prapancha was liked by many, including Prashanth Neel," says Pramod, who shares that it was indeed his work in Rathanan Prapancha that made Prashanth choose him for a role in Salaar. "The fact that I was working with Prashanth Neel was more than enough, and I went without any expectations. However, I have been offered a bumper role, which has me in a pivotal character. I also get to act alongside superstars like Prabhas and Prithviraj Sukumar. "Karnataka noticed me with Rathnan Prapancha. Likewise, Salaar will take me all over India, and make me reach at least 50 per cent of the pan-Indian audience. Salaar will definitely elevate my film's career," he signs off.

Anu Ranjan: Television awards have better ratings than film awards

SHILAJIT MITRA

THE 22nd Indian Television Academy (ITA) Awards will be held in Mumbai on December 11. The awards – which recognise television content across streaming and network channels — have grown in popularity over the years, edging out popular film awards in ratings and scope. This year, for instance, ITA received over 3,000 entries from 250-plus channels and production houses, and will honour achievements in Television and OTT besides a different vertical for technical awards. The event will be attended by the corps d'elite of the Indian entertainment industry and witness a clutch of performances. "It's a fabulous feeling to be entering our 22nd year," says Anu Ranjan, President, ITA. Anu founded the Indian Television Academy in 2001 and leads it with her husband, actor-producer Shashi Ranjan.

"Televised entertainment plays an integral part in people's lives," Anu says. "They want to see their favourite artistes win. For context, the last edition of ITA had better ratings than major Hindi film awards."

This year, veteran filmmaker Rakesh Roshan has chaired the ITA jury. There are also 'Popular' awards decided by public voting. Names like Karan Kundra, Karan Wahi, Maniesh Paul, Kapil Sharma, Munmun Dutt, Shubhangi Atre Poorey, and others have made the Top 5 lists in popular categories. From OTT, actors like Bobby Deol (Aashram season 3), Pratik Gandhi (The Great Indian Murder), Neena Gupta (Panchayat season 2) and Sushmita Sen (Aarya Season 2) are leading the charge of popular nominations.

Anu Ranjan and Shashi Ranjan

"We received 1.1 crore plus votes this year," Anu shares. "Over the last three years, we have touched the 2 crore plus mark." The votes, Anu explains, are audited through an external firm for fairness. It's a lengthy process of separating the online wheat from the online chaff. "There are duplicate votes from bots of course, but the audit firm has systems of filtering out the fake votes. Around 70-80 lakh votes go out."

ITA included OTT shows under its ambit from 2020. Anu, a veteran of the television medium, takes the long view on the ongoing disruptions between TV and streaming.

"OTT platforms like Netflix, Prime Video, Disney+ Hotstar and Voot are still largely metro-centric. They have a sizable subscription fee. But the rest of India still watches TV programming all day. So it's two different audiences," she says.
